CALLS FOR 'FAIR PLAY.' President Eisenhower (standing, right) lashes out at what he calls the "disregard of the standards of fair play" in congressional probes and, although he did not name Sen. Joseph McCarthy, he made it clear that he had the Wisconsin Republican in mind. In an 800-word statement read at his news conference, the President said he would not stand for "any personal humiliation" imposed on members of the executive branch testifying before a congressional group.

House Support Predicted for Sales Tax Cut

Struggle May Develop In Senate if George Asks Exemption Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy and overwhelming House approval was forecast today for a bill to cut a wide range of excise or sales taxes almost one billion dollars.

But the bill, okayed by the Ways and Means Committee over opposition by the Eisenhower administration, threatened to set off a storm in the Senate over another issue.

Rider May Be Applied

Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he might move to tack onto the excise tax measure—when it hits the Senate—his controversial proposal to increase individual income tax exemptions and thus lower taxes, particularly for low income families.

The administration argued that the government cannot afford now such broad and sweeping revenue reductions as are provided in the bill to cut to 10 per cent all excise taxes now above that level, except for liquor and tobacco.

Stimulant to Buying

The changes would be effective April 1. They would cut taxes on movies and other admissions, telephone bills, rail, bus and air passenger fares, jewelry, cosmetics, pocketbooks, furs, luggage, telegrams, sporting goods, cameras, pens, mechanical pencils, lighters and other items.

Presumably prices also would drop on many of these goods, al-

Leonard Hall Says Issue a Squabble In 'Family'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall sought to step into the breach between President Eisenhower and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) today by discounting the GOP's "family differences."

McCarthy himself, soon after he rejected presidential criticism in a crackling statement of his own, said in an interview, "I have no fight with Eisenhower at all . . . I hope the issuing of statements back and forth will drop here."

Ike Speaks Out

Eisenhower, without naming McCarthy in a long statement clearly aimed at him, spoke out yesterday against "disregard of fair play." McCarthy fired back that the President and he "apparently disagree only on how we should handle those who protect Communists."

Hall, who had anticipated the President in publicly taking issue with McCarthy's investigative methods, said in a speech prepared for a New York luncheon of the National Republican Club that "we are not a divided party."

"Our opposition, naturally, has made much of the party's 'family differences' during the past weeks," he said. "They would have you believe that we Republicans have split irrevocably over a problem involving personalities.

All in Accord

"That's nonsense, of course. On many issues there are degrees of opinion, emphasis and approach . . . In a vital matter like combatting the endless dangers of communism, both on the home front and at the council tables abroad, we are in earnest accord."

Despite Hall's prediction that the Republicans are going to display "team spirit," there wasn't too much evidence of unity in party reaction to the exchange of statements yesterday by Eisenhower and McCarthy.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee gave no evidence, after a closed meeting yesterday, of any material progress toward agreement on a code of ethics for conducting hearings.

Can't Agree on Everything

McCarthy, one of those present, made it clear he intends to proceed as he has in the past despite anything Eisenhower or the President's friends might say about his methods.

"I'd hate to think the day would come when a President is expected to agree with every senator, and every senator to agree with the President on everything," McCarthy said.

"There is no reason on earth why any Republican and I should be arguing on this Communist is-

Senate's Move To Tighten Up Rules Attacked

Policy Committee's Probe Order Is Under Fire by Senator Jenner

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today he regards a Republican move to tighten up the rules of Senate investigating committees as "much ado about nothing."

The Senate Republican Policy Committee last week ordered an investigation of the rules for conducting investigations.

The order was widely interpreted as aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his Senate investigations subcommittee, and at Sen. Langer (R-ND) for making public unevaluated accusations the Judiciary Committee had received against Chief Justice Earl Warren.

President Eisenhower voiced confidence yesterday that Congress "will respond to America's convictions in . . . exercising proper vigilance without being unfair."

Ten of the committee chairmen, including McCarthy, got together yesterday with Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, the policy committee chairman, for some exploratory talks. Most of them, McCarthy included, refused comment after the meeting adjourned, but Jenner told reporters:

U.S. Freighter Held by Turks After Collision

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish authorities held the 7,210-ton American freighter Volunteer State in port today in connection with the mystery sinking Tuesday of a small Turkish coastal vessel in which four men were lost.

The ship's Istanbul agents, Gilchrist and Walker, said the Turks had issued their "stop sail" order on "circumstantial evidence" that the ship was in the Sea of Marmora, where the 100-ton coaster Yayla sank early Tuesday after a collision.

The ship is operated by the States Marine Corp. of Delaware and sails out of New York.

She had just unloaded an American military aid cargo at nearby Derince, on the Gulf of Izmit, and was about to sail when Turkish police boarded her just before midnight last night. They carried orders from the Turkish public prosecutor to hold the ship pending investigation.

An inspection of the ship's bow for a possible collision mark was planned.

The sinking of the Yayla was discovered when the U. S. destroyer F. T. Berry early yesterday picked up a lone survivor who had floated on a piece of wreckage for 24 hours.

Gilchrist and Walker asked the American Embassy to intercede on behalf of the Volunteer State. The agents said Hamdi Cakir, the collision survivor, was unable to identify the vessel which ran down the Yayla except to say it was "a big ship."

Reds Say U.S. Tried to Bribe Ship's Captain

TOKYO (AP)—The Russian mission today charged that "American spies" had tried to win over a Soviet ship captain to the United States with promises of $50,000 and asylum in California.

But the efforts failed, the mission said in a statement released to Japanese newsmen.

It called upon the Japanese government to "control the provocative actions of the American espionage corps."

The U.S. Far East Command did not comment immediately.

The Russian mission has had no legal position in Japan since the end of the occupation. Russia did not sign the Japanese Peace Treaty.

A Soviet spokesman identified the Russian skipper as a "Captain Kulikov." Presumably he referred to Capt. Philip Krekov, who was convicted last month on a technical charge of violating Japan's territorial waters. Krekov was nabbed off Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido in a trap set for Japanese Communist spies.

He received a suspended sentence of one year and left Japan Monday on a Russian ship.

Sternbaum's Fate Rests in Jury's Hands

Four Possible Verdicts Explained by Judge In 25-Minute Charge

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A jury of 10 men and two women today began deliberating the fate of 35-year-old E. Max Sternbaum, supermarket owner charged with first-degree murder in the 1952 death of his wife Leah, 31.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch read a 25-minute charge to the jurors instructing them they could return a verdict of first-degree murder, first-degree murder with mercy, second-degree murder or acquittal.

Without a mercy recommendation conviction of first-degree murder means the electric chair; a provision of mercy would give Sternbaum a life prison sentence, second-degree would make him eligible for parole in 20 years.

Former Conviction

Judge Kalbfleisch told the jury not to hold against Sternbaum his former conviction for forgery. He served 14 months in the Ohio Penitentiary in 1940-41 on that conviction.

The judge instructed the jury to decide whether or not the witnesses "had credibility" and to omit sympathy and hostility.

Summarizing the charge against Sternbaum, the judge said, "In substance the indictment charges the defendant on the fourth day of December 1952 . . . unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice killed Leah Rose Sternbaum. To this indictment the defendant has entered a plea of not guilty. This plea is a denial on his part of all allegations of fact stated in the indictment."

Judge's Statement

Judge Kalbfleisch said:

"If you have a reasonable doubt which is not speculative or captious, then you should acquit the defendant. If on the contrary, you have no reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt . . . then it will be your duty to convict him. Evidence may be either direct or circumstantial or both. No person has been produced by the state who has testified as seeing the defendant strike the blows which killed his wife. It is not necessary, however, that each of the circumstances given as evidence standing alone be sufficient to warrant conviction . . . ."

"The law does not require the state to prove motive in this case. The court further instructs the jury that when evidence fails to show any motive to commit the crime charged on the part of the accused, this is a circumstance in favor of his innocence. Before you can find the defendant guilty of murder in the first-degree as charged, you must find from the evidence and

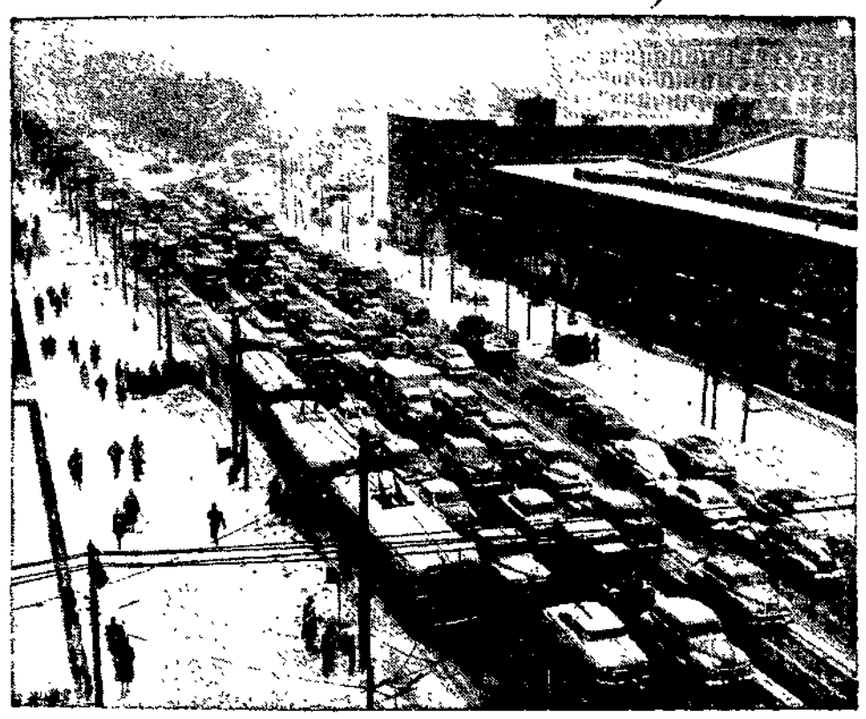
Young Will File Action Against NYC Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert R. Young announced today he is filing suit against all 15 directors of the New York Central Railroad asking an injunction against their expenditure of "any monies of the New York Central Railroad Co. for the purpose of continuing themselves in office."

The suit is being brought in the New York State Supreme Court as a stockholder's action on behalf of Young, his associate Allan P. Kirby, and "all other stockholders of the New York Central Railroad Co. similarly situated."

Wind-Driven Snow Clogs Northern Ohio Highways, Shuts Schools, Industries



SNOWSTORM BATTERS CLEVELAND. A second furious snowstorm, propelled by 50-mile-an-hour winds, jams automobile and bus traffic on one of Cleveland's main thoroughfares at the height of the evening rush hour. Small groups of homeward-bound office workers can be seen stranded at bus stops. The storm followed an earlier one in which some 15 inches of snow fell on the city. Many schools, offices and plants were forced to close down because of the storm.

Clevelanders Hurt Most by Fresh Storm

3 Additional Deaths Reported; Winds Hit 50 MPH, Pile Drifts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Weather-weary northern Ohio staggered under another blow from Old Man Winter today as wind-driven snow and freezing temperatures snarled traffic and disrupted schools and industry.

Three more deaths last night and today brought the storm toll of the last five days in Ohio to 16.

The latest victims, all Clevelanders, were Elmer Mohr, 28, who died after shoveling snow; James Kerlik, 64, an Erie Railroad guard found frozen in the snow near his home; and Leo Pytko, 64, who collapsed after fighting his way through a heavy wind.

Roads Hazardous

The Cleveland Auto Club reported "all roads to and from Cleveland" extremely hazardous after three inches of snow last night and today iced the pavements. In addition to the slickness, many roads were drifted over by winds which went up to 50 miles an hour last night and ranged from 25 to 30 miles an hour today.

All public and parochial schools in Greater Cleveland closed today and will remain closed tomorrow. Many industrial and office workers, hampered by jammed streets and crippled city transportation schedules, failed to show up for work.

Many schools also were closed in rural Erie County. Sandusky public schools were open, but parochial schools there were closed.

The Weather Bureau at Cleveland reported a total of 10 inches of snow on the ground, counting the remains of the 15-inch fall Sunday night and Monday. The temperature here dropped to a low of 14 degrees early today, and is expected to go down to 10 degrees tomorrow.

More Snow Predicted

Another two inches of snow is predicted for Cleveland today with much drifting because of the wind.

The operations office at Cleveland Hopkins Airport reported runways there have been kept in good shape and planes are landing and taking off.

Akron had a low of 12, accompanied by snow flurries. City streets there are in good condition and city schools are open, but rural Summit County has many impassable roads.

The state patrol at Ashtabula reported main highways in Ashtabula County are slippery and perilous. Many secondary roads there, the patrol said, are blocked by drifts.

In the Youngstown area, where the thermometer dipped to 15 degrees, most highways were slippery and many rural schools closed. Several Trumbull County schools also closed.

Fight Expected As Farm Plan Hearing Begins

Agriculture Committee Opens Study on Ike's Price Control Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—An uphill battle to win congressional approval of main features of the Eisenhower administration farm program gets under way today with the start of hearings by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The chairman, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), concedes the program, which he supports, has strong opposition but he said "we have a hard-working and fair-minded committee."

Main controversy centers around the administration proposal to shift to a system of flexible price supports on farm products to replace the rigid price floors for basic crops which expire at the end of this year.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson are backing flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity for major crops in place of the present fixed 90 per cent. Parity is a computed price said by law to give a farm product a fair relative purchasing power.

Opponents who contend that the effect of this shift, although cushioned, would be a further sharp decline in farmers' income got some new arguments today in the form of a report from the Agriculture Department.

It said the income of the farm

State Approves Nelsonville Site Of TB Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The selection of Nelsonville as the site of the new $1,150,000, 100-bed tuberculosis hospital was announced today by Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director.

Dr. Porterfield agreed with the selection of his advisory committee on tuberculosis care. It met last week and its report—favoring the Nelsonville site—was made public Monday.

In announcing his decision Dr. Porterfield pointed out the principal factors influencing the selection were geographic location in relation to the population of the entire area to be served and the real and potential tuberculosis case load in this area.

Dr. Porterfield added that while all the communities were very generous in their promise to provide land and public utilities, Nelsonville had an additional advantage in having already available a municipal fund which the City Council had indicated was available for the provision of such

Court Names Receiver for Bus Company

Louis B. Conkle, Marion attorney, was appointed receiver for the Marion Transit, Inc., by Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith Wednesday.

The appointment was made after the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation filed an action asking appointment of a receiver and all other necessary equitable relief against the local bus company, which ceased operations a week ago because of financial difficulties.

The BUC claimed the local bus company had failed to comply with the unemployment compensation law of Ohio and had failed to report any pay contributions or taxes.

A finding made Feb. 25, 1954 by Ernest Cornell, administrator with the bureau, notified Marion Transit, Inc., that contributions of $310.51 were due Jan. 31, 1954, for the October-December, 1953 period. A ten days' grace period was allowed the local company, and the action was filed when the payment was not made within that time.

Conkle today said that he will be able to list the company's assets within a few days, but listing the company's liabilities might take as long as several weeks.

Conkle is a partner in the law firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely.

Cold Follows Snow; Schools In City Reopen

Colder but clearer weather followed the blizzard-like storm in Marion yesterday, with temperatures dipping to 12 above zero in Marion last night.

City elementary schools which were dismissed at noon yesterday opened for regular sessions this morning, but five county schools remained closed today. They also had dismissed classes yesterday morning during the height of the storm.

No classes were held today at Caledonia, Claridon, Meeker, New Bloomington and Waldo. Those open were Green Camp, Grand Prairie, LaRue, Morral, Pleasant, Prospect and Martel.

In the area, Galion schools closed at noon yesterday and remained closed today, and in Bucyrus city schools reopened this morning after closing at noon yesterday. All Crawford County schools remained closed today after dismissing at 11 o'clock yesterday.

A light snow fell throughout the night last night, local weather observers reported this morning. The snow which fell yesterday measured only three-tenths of an inch although it was quite heavy at times.

The state highway department reported the roads are in pretty good shape except for a few slippery spots and a very few drifts. Salt trucks are patrolling the roads and snow plows are out to clear a few places where the snow has drifted. The county road superintendent reported north and south roads in the county drifted a little during the night but workers hope to have them clear by tonight.

Mostly fair is the forecast for tonight with the low expected to be about 8. Friday is to be fair and not quite as cold in the afternoon.

Sheriff Rounds Up Murder Trial Jury

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Fifty citizens picked at random from throughout Westmoreland County were summoned today as prospective jurors in the murder trial of phantom slayer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Sheriff Howard Thomas dispatched eight deputies to round up prospective jurors in Greensburg, New Kensington, Jeannette, Arnold, Vandergrift, Monessen and adjoining townships.

The first summons was served by Sheriff Thomas himself. He saw William R. Larimer, 31, looking at a store display window in Greensburg and promptly served papers on him.

Of the original panel members, 106 were challenged by the state.

4 Puerto Ricans Indicted In Speedy Federal Action

REP. PAUL SHAFER
Tells Grand Jury of Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Ricans accused of wounding five congressmen in a wild outburst of pistol fire in the House chamber were under indictments today that carry a possible total sentence of 75 years imprisonment.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), the most gravely injured of the legislators, was still in serious condition, but no longer on the critical list. The others were improving.

Federal prosecutors and a grand jury took little more than the minimum time yesterday to go over the evidence on Monday's shooting. U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover used six witnesses, including one member of Congress, Rep. Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich), to present the case in one hour and 45 minutes.

Almost immediately afterward the grand jury voted indictments charging assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous

500 Flee Hotel Fire in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Approximately 500 guests fled from the Parker House, three of them down ladders, when fire swept the fifth floor of the 14-story hotel in the heart of downtown Boston early today.

Joseph C. Fitzgerald, 47, of Coral Gables, Fla., was reported to be the only casualty.

He was taken to City Hospital suffering minor burns and smoke inhalation after firefighters assisted him down a ladder from the fifth floor. His condition was reported as "not serious."

Bennett A. Hartley, 39, Baltimore, Md., and Gordon Shillinglaw, 27, Yonkers, N. Y., were also helped down ladders.

Hartley, an engineering consultant with Bethlehem Steel, said he climbed onto a ledge outside his window.

Police in a passing cruiser, apparently unaware there was a fire in the hotel, took him into temporary custody after firefighters brought him down and questioned him in the mistaken belief he had been trying to commit suicide, he said.

Rio Cage Team Slowed in Trip To Tournament

Coach Oliver, Players Escape Uninjured in Crash Near Mt. Gilead

Ten members of the Rio Grande College basketball team, traveling to Cleveland for a tournament appearance, escaped injury Wednesday in an accident involving two station wagons on Route 61, four miles north of Mt. Gilead, the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported.

The station wagons, both carrying members of the team, were traveling north at the time of the accident. The Rio Grande College station wagon, driven by Carl V. Beener, 20, Lucasville, hit the rear of one owned and driven by Newt Oliver, 30, Rio Grande coach.

Four Rio players were in the Oliver station wagon and six were inthe other. No one was injured. Bevo Francis, high-scoring center, was not with the team.

Beener was arrested on a charge of following too closely and was fined $10 and costs by Mayr Emery Murphy of Mt. Gilead.

The Beener vehicle received moderate damage to the front and right front fender. Oliver's station wagon was moderately damaged in the rear.

Rio Grande's team was to appear in a playoff last night for a berth in the NAIA tournament in Kansas City next week. The games, involving Rio Grande John Carroll, Findlay, and Central State, were postponed due to the snow in Cleveland.

The patrol also reported an accident involving a Greyhound bus and a car in Morrow County yesterday. It occurred at 9:30 a.m. on Route 42, one mile south of highway 19.

The bus, driven by Herbert W. Kelley, 31, Clumbus, going north and a car, driven by Herbert Sarcone, 67, Cardington, going south, sideswiped. Sarcone was taken to Morrow County Hospital in an ambulance and treated for chest injuries. A passenger in the bus, Mrs. D. L. Holland, 63, Cleveland, received abrasions and bruises on her left leg but was not treated.

The front of Sarcone's car received extensive damage while moderate damage was done to the left front of the bus.

weapon against Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34; Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28; Andres F. Cordero, 29, and Rafael C. Miranda, 25.

All were held in $100,000 bail each. Police said all but Rodriguez had confessed. Rodriguez was not seized at the Capitol, but later at a bus station. Rep. Shafer told newsmen, before he testified at the closed grand jury session, that he could identify Rodriguez as one of the quartet involved in the shooting.

The shooting had repercussions last night in Havana and Chicago.

In Havana, Cuban military intelligence officers arrested for questioning Juan Juarbes, foreign affairs secretary of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party. They also seized another Nationalist, Carlos Padilla Perez.

Chicago police picked up five Puerto Ricans in a roundup of local Nationalist leaders. Authorities there declined to say what further action they plan to take.

sue. I think Eisenhower feels as strongly about fulfilling his campaign promises to get the Communists out of government as I do."

Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday there is "an immediate and pressing need" to clarify laws which have permitted Communists and other undesirables to enter the armed services.

Not Entirely Satisfied

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, head of the GOP policy group, told reporters he thought the President's statement "indicated he was not entirely satisfied with the methods" used by McCarthy.

Ferguson said he wouldn't have handled in the same way McCarthy did the questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who said he carried out orders to give an honorable discharge to Maj. Irving Peress. Peress had refused to answer questions about possible Communist connections. McCarthy conducting an investigations subcommittee hearing, told Zwicker among other things that he should be removed from command.

Backs Stevens

Eisenhower yesterday backed up Army Secretary Stevens, who had accused McCarthy of abusing Zwicker. The President said in an 800-word statement read to a White House news conference that no subordinate of the executive branch was going to be called upon to "submit to any kind of personal humiliation when testifying before congressional committees or elsewhere."

The President didn't name McCarthy but the senator didn't mince words in answering back.

"When the shouting and the tumult dies," he said, "the American people and the President will realize that this unprecedented mud-slinging against the committee by left-wing elements of press and radio was caused because another Fifth Amendment Communist in government was finally dug out of the dark recesses and exposed to public view."

Acknowledges Errors

Eisenhower acknowledged the Army had made "serious errors" in promoting and giving an honorable discharge to Peress. But he termed the military services "completely loyal" and put in a special tribute to Zwicker.

McCarthy said:

"If a stupid, arrogant or witless man in a position of power appears before our committee and is found aiding the Communist party, he will be exposed. The fact that he might be a general places him in no special class as far as I am concerned."

The Wisconsin senator added:

"Apparently the President and I now agree on the necessity of getting rid of Communists. We apparently disagree only on how we should handle those who protect Communists."

Later he struck the "now" from this sentence, saying it was being misinterpreted.

Zwicker, in a statement issued at his Camp Kilmer, N.J., headquarters, thanked the press for "many courtesies" and said he was "certain that our President and our great secretary of the Army, Mr. Stevens, have made all necessary comments."

The Eisenhower-McCarthy exchange found Sen. Cooper (R-Ky), a candidate for re-election in this year's elections, siding with Eisenhower and saying Congress "must take responsibility itself" for the conduct of investigations.

2 Inhalator Runs Made; Fire Call Is Answered

The Marion city fire department answered three calls yesterday.

At 2:45 p.m. firemen from the Mark St. and Central fire stations were called to the Eliza Gambler residence at 495 Jefferson St. An overheated stove pipe had set fire to the wall of the home. Firemen estimated the damage at $50.

At 6:25 a.m. the fire department inhalator squad was called to the home of Vernon Marks, 69, 126 W. George St. The device was used successfully for 10 minutes.

A second inhalator run was made at 4:50 p.m. to the residence of Eddie Adams, 60, of 281 Latourette St. This time the inhalator was used for 30 minutes, also successfully. Both Adams and Marks have heart ailments, firemen reported.

Taxes

though perhaps not on movie tickets. Committee Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), sponsor of the bill, said the tax reductions would be a stimulant to consumer buying and thus would help the national economy over its present dip.

The Reed bill also would cancel about $1,100,000,000 in cuts in other excises scheduled April 1 on liquor, tobacco, automobiles, gasoline, buses and trucks, auto parts, and beer and wine.

Other things being equal, the bill would add almost one billion dollars to the $2,900,000,000 deficit President Eisenhower has projected for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana said he planned to bring the excise bill to the House floor next Wednesday, adding "the vote for it will of course be overwhelming."

Opposes Wide Cuts

Eisenhower had urged canceling the April 1 excise reductions scheduled under present law, but is opposing the across-the-board cuts called for in the Reed bill.

Sen. George said in a separate interview he personally favors many of the excise cuts provided in the Reed bill, but not necessarily all of them.

George has moved to increase individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent from the present $600 to $800, which would save taxpayers almost five billion dollars a year and lose that much in revenue for the government.

The excise bill must be enacted by April to meet the deadline for canceling the excise reductions now scheduled for that date.

Auto Accident Rate Low for February

February had the lowest traffic accident rate since 1950, Police Chief Thomas Coon disclosed today.

Last month's toll of 54 traffic mishaps was far fewer than any month last year or for the last three years. Previous low for the period had been 65 in July, 1952. December of that year saw the high figure of 129 accidents.

Mishaps last month included two fatal accidents, four causing personal injury and 49 resulting in property damage only. It raised the 1954 accident totals to 151, in which three persons were killed and 20 injured. At this same time last year, Marion had had 178 mishaps, but none had been fatal and only 17 persons injured.

"It was much ado about nothing.

"The general consensus was that you can't do much about it (policing the committees' rules)."

Jenner in Key Position

Jenner attended as chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, which would handle any legislation to impose uniform rules on committees which now make their own. He also heads the Red-hunting internal security subcommittee.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said in a separate interview the chairmen never did stick to the subject at issue. Instead, he said, they devoted about half their time to discussing bills their committees were handling.

"I assume the committees will continue to make their own rules," he said. "No policy committee is authorized to tell them what to do."

Eisenhower, in a formal statement at his news conference yesterday, said he had been assured "that effective steps are being taken by the Republican leadership to set up codes of fair procedures."

Opposed to Dictating

But Ferguson said he does not himself favor any effort to impose uniform rules on all committees, and added that "there is no desire (by the policy committee, for any dictation to chairmen or committees."

He said "it may be" that the chairmen in subsequent meetings would agree on perhaps some basic uniform rules they might ask the Senate to impose on all. He said he intends to meet again "very soon" with those who did not attend yesterday, among them Langer."

EYE DECEPTION

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Today's eyewear is an optical illusion in the strict sense of the word. Engraving on bridges, rims or temples is attractive, but its main purpose is to emphasize or minimize width of the frame, according to designers. To make frames seem wider, large open patterns are used, to make them seem narrower, ribbed designs or straight lines carry the effect.

Discussion by Panel On Traffic Safety Will End Project

A panel composed of city officials, students and adults will discuss traffic safety among teenagers Friday at Harding High's safety assembly.

Juvenile Judge Edward Ruzo, Marion police captain Clyde Hardin, Harding driver education teacher James Smith, state highway patrolman Larry Milakovich, Mrs. William Hamor and five students will form the panel. The students are Norma Hamilton, Dick Allen, Carl Jacobs, Ed Baer and Delores Cosey.

The assembly is the climax of Harding's week-long safety project sponsored by the commercial law class. Commercial law teacher Mrs. Colleen Burns is adviser.

Max Kaelber, last of six Harding students honored as being an outstanding driver, will be presented at the assembly. The other students honored were Tom Fields, Anna Fairchild, Kay Montgomery, and Harley Cook.

The assembly also will include a devotion and a movie of safety, "The Last Date."

Farm Hearing

population last year averaged $882 for each person compared with $1,898 for the nonfarm population. The department said this represented a drop of $23 from 1952 for the farm population and an increase of $56 for the nonfarm population.

The record high for the farm population include the value of farm products consumed at home, the rental value of farm dwellings and returns from nonfarm sources.

Sen. Young (R-ND), senior GOP member of the Senate committee next to Aiken, said he favors retention of the fixed 90 per cent supports "for at least another year."

"I think it's the only thing we can do," he said in an interview. "With our economy slipping at some places I think it would be wrong to adopt a lower farm price support system."

Additional Proposals

Tied to the flexible price supports is an administration proposal to "set aside" some 2½ billion dollars worth of cotton, wheat, butter and other surplus products now in government hands.

The intention is to isolate these from market-depressing influences already obvious by disposing of them through foreign aid, foreign and domestic disaster relief, and similar nonmarket operations.

The Senate approved yesterday and sent to the House a 1¾-billion-dollar increase in farm price support funds to raise the Commodity Credit Corp.'s total authority to 8½ billion dollars.

Aiken told the Senate that added funds are needed to carry out high-level supports promised on this year's crops.

Highways south of a line marked by Eaton, Washington Court House, McArthur, and Pomeroy are normal. The balance of state highways are slippery in spots.

Highways in the Lake Erie area are slippery and hazardous and the State Highway Patrol says unnecessary travel is being discouraged in the "normal portion" of the state.

The forecast is for cold and cloudy with snow flurries today and tonight.

Double Celebration Planned

Anniversary of Old Richwood Circuit To Be Observed at Church on Sunday

A double celebration will be marked at services of First Methodist Church at Richwood on Sunday—the fiftieth anniversary of dedication of the church building, in the morning, and at night, centennial of the old Richwood Methodist Circuit which included part of Marion County.

Guest speaker in the evening will be Rev. William L. Steffens, superintendent of the Springfield District, Methodist Church, and at the morning service the church pastor, Rev. Leonard W. Mann, will preach on "The Past, the Future, and Us."

COVERING MORE than 400 square miles of territory, lying mostly in northern Union County, the western side of Delaware County, and the southern fringe of Marion County, the old Richwood Circuit included altogether more than 70 churches at one time or another during a 39-year period. This large parish was in existence from 1835 to 1874, reaching its greatest size about a century ago. Included were the communities of York Center, Byhalia, Summersville, Essex, Claiborne, Prospect, Radnor, Broadway, Pharisburg, Magnetic Springs, Warrensburg, White Sulphur and Bellepoint.

Methodist people and others from throughout the area are invited to the commemorative service on Sunday night.

THE ANNIVERSARY service Sunday morning will mark the fiftieth year of the church building which was dedicated on March 6, 1904. A small structure of logs erected in 1837 was the first church, built three years after organization of the congregation, and the second was a brick building dedicated in 1864.

History of the old Richwood Circuit has been compiled under the heading of "The Story of a Family." Formed in pioneer days in this section of Ohio, the circuit had its beginnings on June 20, 1835 when 13 small Methodist churches, or "classes" as they were called at that time, joined together under control of one Quarterly Conference and shared the services of one pastor. All of the churches held their meetings in homes of their members, with no church building yet in existence in the territory. Most of them took the names of the pioneer people who were their leaders.

SOME OF THESE churches dropped out of existence within a few years, some merged with one another, a few eventually affiliated with other denominations, but a substantial number of them in due time erected houses of worship and assumed other names. After about 1854, as the churches grew, other circuits were carved out and the area of the Richwood Circuit began to decrease. This process continued over 20 years, then in 1874 the "mother" church felt able to stand alone and became a "station." The feeling yet remains, a spokesman has pointed out, that the churches of the area constitute a "brotherhood of Methodist people held together in a special way by a common ancestry, a common heritage, and a common history . . united, in . . mighter force for righteousness, for salvation, and for the Kingdom of God."

Psychiatrist Called

State Delays GIS Probe, Braces To Prevent Riot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state welfare director today delayed an investigation of conditions at the Girls' Industrial School to brace against a riot reportedly brewing at the institution near Delaware.

Welfare Director Henry J. Robison said a psychiatrist learned about plans for a riot during questioning of a girl inmate. The psychiatrist, Dr. Robert E. Weimer of Marion, said the inmate told him girls were planning to riot "as they would be protected by Mr. Rhodes."

Calls for Probe

State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, called for a grand jury investigation of the school following an impromptu inspection of the institution last weekend. Rhdoes said he acted on a complaint of Lt. Gov. John W. Brown that inmates were subjected to inhumane treatment.

Rhodes said he found five girls between the ages of 13 and 16 in solitary correction cells.

Dr. Weimer told Robison the inmate he questioned was in a highly disturbed state of mind. He quoted the girl as saying "all this trouble" would needlessly upset parents and their children in the school.

"It is evident that the supreme need at this time is to restore quiet and order in the institution," Director Robison said.

For that reason his contemplated investigation will be postponed, the welfare director added.

He identified Dr. Weimer as a part-time staff psychiatrist at the girls' school and who formerly was employed at the State Receiving Hospital in Columbus.

Charges Filed

Rhodes' investigation has led to charges against a male "cottage parent" of assaulting a 15-year-old girl inmate. Cottages house 20 to 30 girls at the school where 350 inmates are quartered.

The state auditor said in a prepared statement that an investigation of the school by the welfare department would result in a "whitewash." He called for an inquiry by an impartial, non-political group.

Rhodes said "self investigation" by the department "would result in a complete 'whitewash' as did the 'riot' at the same institution in 1950."

Officials said some girls got out of hand and damaged furniture and equipment in the 1950 disturbance.

"Nothing less than an impartial investigation by a non-partisan group will suffice in preventing the acts occurring at the Girls Industrial School in the immediate past."

A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Allen Daniel, 29, a graduate student at Ohio State University's Department of Social Administration but law officers were unable to locate him.

Accused of Assault

Daniel is accused of assaulting a 15-year-old inmate of the school, where he was employed as a cottage parent. State Auditor James A. Rhodes issued a statement Tuesday charging the state permitted "inhuman treatment" at the school.

Rhodes said today one of the cottages at the school has "deplorable sanitary facilities."

He said girls confined to their rooms in the evening are denied access to fire escapes by two locked doors. Rapid evacuation in an emergency would be impossible, he said, because each room must be unlocked individually by a matron.

Further Charges

"The shower room at Riverside (cottage) has no face bowls," Rhodes said. "Girls must use a community sprinkler to wash their faces and hands. Lighting in this room is so inconsequential that it is of little service."

Rhodes, in a prepared statement, said his charges that rooms used for solitary confinement, known as the "hole," represented "inhuman treatment" of inmates had brought protests from the school superintendent and the chief of the division of juvenile research that the rooms were used only for "mentally unbalanced" inmates.

The state auditor said the Ohio general code specifically limits inmates at the industrial school to girls who have normal mental and physical capacities.

"It should also be noted that use of the "hole" was resumed by the present superintendent when she assumed office. It had been discontinued by her predecessor," Rhodes said.

beyond a reasonable doubt all of the elements contained in that charge x x x."

'Acquittal or Chair'

Sternbaum's lawyer, Paul Herbert, yesterday quoted the balding, mustachioed supermarket executive as saying he wanted "acquittal or the electric chair."

For the past four weeks Prosecutor Theodore Lutz has tried to prove Sternbaum was in love with another woman and murdered his wife to be free to marry her. Lutz claimed Sternbaum clubbed his wife with a wrench.

Herbert, who called only a few witnesses compared with the dozens summoned by Lutz, attempted to substantiate Sternbaum's story that burglars beat him and his wife after she stopped at his office to pick him up late at night. Sternbaum says the burglars set fire to the building housing his offices and he made his way to safety after regaining consciousness.

Directed Verdict Denied

Judge Kalbfleisch denied a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Sternbaum was the final defense witness. After his cross-examination yesterday, the opposing lawyers made their final pleas to the jury.

Marshall Moore, Herbert's assistant, said:

"In trying to prove the defendant is guilty, the prosecutor has miserably failed."

Lutz said Mrs. Sternbaum's death "was caused by deliberate and premeditated malice of the defendant."

Policeman Takes Blame For Traffic Violation

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP)—Attorney John Heath argued successfully in court that the illegal left turn he made in his automobile was at the order of a policeman.

Heath told a police court magistrate that he was in the process of making the turn at an intersection when Patrolman G. Clayton approached his car and said he was going to give him a ticket. Heath said at that moment he hadn't completed the turn but had to do so in order to comply with Clayton's order to "pull over to the curb."

Heath argued that his violation of the law was at the policeman's order.

Magistrate A. Risley Ensor dismissed the charge on the grounds that you have to complete an illegal turn before you can be charged with a traffic violation.

water, sewerage, power lines and road provisions as would be necessary to the edge of the selected site.

Serving 14 Counties

The new TB facility will serve a general area of these 14 counties: Muskingum, Guernsey, Noble, Monroe, Washington, Morgan, Perry, Athens, Meigs, Fairfield, Hocking, Vinton, Gallia and Lawrence.

"Every one of the communities visited or whose citizens visited us," said Dr. Porterfield, "showed a very sincere interest in the tuberculosis problem and a most cooperative and helpful attitude for the proper placement of this new facility."

Dr. Porterfield said Nelsonville is close to the exact center of the area the new hospital will serve. The hospital was provided for by an appropriation of the last Legislature in the additions and betterments bill.

Dr. Porterfield pointed out Nelsonville has a good, modern, general hospital to provide mutual assistance to the new TB facility. He added the community has the proper facilities to provide for adequate functioning of the new institution.

Plans Under Way

Preparation of architects drawings for the new structure is getting under way at once, Dr. Porterfield said in his announcement. Of this part of the operation, he said:

"Of equal importance to the selection of the best site, was the committee's recommendations on the type of facility which can be expected to provide the best and most modern service to the people of southeast Ohio.

"The picture of tuberculosis care has changed and is changing so rapidly that it is necessary to exercize the best possible judgment in building for the future. The committee's recommendations will be carefully considered in the architectural planning now beginning," Dr. Porterfield added.

"Stimulation and increased emphasis must be given to case findings, out-patient care for those who cannot or will not accept hospitalization and social rehabilitation of those recovering from the disease. We hope this facility can be built to form the center of a broad, intensive program of tuberculosis control for a population whose occupational and economic environment makes tuberculosis not yet a defeated danger."

Issues Warning

In his announcement, the health director had this warning: While a modern facility for hospitalization is needed in southeast Ohio, it must be recognized that the provision of such a facility will not solve the control problem unless the counties undertake to support financially such controls, particularly in providing necessary funds for the hospitalization of those afflicted individuals who are in need of it.

Marion Man Charged

Everett James, 44, of 369 Milburn Ave., is to answer charges of abusing his seven children next Wednesday before Juvenile Court Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

He was arrested yesterday and lodged in the county jail after his wife, Beulah, signed a warrant charging him with abusing their seven children ranging in age from 2 to 14. He is also charged with excessive use of alchol.

The hearing is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Businessmen Taking Note

Consumers Are Still Buying When Price Is Right

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—People are still buying—when they think the price is right.

There are few signs of a concerted "buyers' strike" — even on coffee But there are increasing signs that when consumers think prices are too high they are either waiting, haggling for discounts, or seeking out bootleg' cars and other goods

Some businessmen are beginning to wonder if a stitch in time isn't in order—a fresh look now at pricing practices rather than risking the necessity of painful cutting later.

Many manufacturers can make out a good case for the prices on their goods citing higher production costs and operating expenses Many retailers hesitate to lower their traditional mark-ups — their costs are up too

But if March doesn t bring the business pick-up that they and Washington hope for other ways of stimulating consumer buying may be in order. And just cutting taxes may not be all that's needed

Signs of consumer restlessness are growing The big auto makers complain that "bootleggers" are selling new cars at less than the prices set by the auto dealers

There are also complaints that while new car sales rose in February over January they were still eight per cent lower than a year ago But expecting good business in a few weeks both Chrysler and Hudson are calling back laid-off workers this week

Television set makers report a marked pickup in their sales—after there had been considerable price shaving and offering of new models in lower price ranges

Merchants are still talking about the good business the January clearance sales brought out And particularly impressive were the near-riot conditions at some stores that offered special low prices on Washington s birthday

Food stores report that consumer buying is still high But housewives will switch quickly from one kind of meat to another when the price gets out of line with their budget

Coffee sales slid when prices soared And the Tea Council of the U S A Inc reports that tea sales hit an all time high in January up 22 per cent over the like month in 1953

All of this consumer balking or switching points up the fact that in times of abundance of consumer goods the consumer can afford to be choosey and usually is

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star

By REV. W L STAFFORD
Pastor of Wesley Methodist Church

"Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith, prove your own selves. . . ."—2 Corinthians 13 5.

A good way to begin Lent is to test yourself by the Ten Commandments Here are some questions based on the Commandments Answer them thoughtfully and sincerely and you will be surprised at what you find out about yourself Don t argue with the questions If you feel like arguing it is a pretty good sign you are trying to dodge the question

1 Thou shalt have no other gods before me Is there any person I love more than I love God? Do I love money power or popularity more than God?

2 Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image Do I use any God substitutes such as liquor sedatives work a car, property a job music study or some kind of pleasure? (Note Some of these are not bad in themselves but are bad when used as God-substitutes or idols)

3 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain Do I use profanity? Do I say the name of God in hymns or prayers lightly without thinking or meaning it? Do I keep my word?

CCNY Hands Nat Holman Order To Quit or Be Fired

Decision Reached in Spite Of Trial Group's Findings

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Nat Holman, who spent virtually his entire adult life building City College of New York into a national basketball power, was told today to retire or be fired in an unprecedented decision by the Board of Higher Education.

The graying perfectionist of the court only last week was cleared of charges of misconduct by a majority report of a three-man trial committee of the board as a result of the college basketball scandals of 1951. Complete exoneration by the entire tribunal was regarded as nothing more than a formality.

But for the first time, the board overruled the recommendation of its trial committee and thus blotted out the 34-year career of the man who became known to countless thousands as "Mr. Basketball."

It was close to 1 a.m. when the board made its announcement. It had discussed the matter for more than four hours. It also voted to restore Bobby Sand, Holman's assistant, who was tried with Holman with a reprimand "to such duties as the president of City College may designate."

Holman, who led the CCNY team to victories in the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments in 1950 only to have his shining star explode when seven of his boys were found to be implicated in the fixes, seemed stunned.

"It's beyond belief," he said, emerging from the meeting room. Then he shook his head when asked for a further statement.

The formal decision gave Holman a choice of dismissal without pay as of Nov. 18, 1952 or to file an application to retire within 30 days.

While Holman was tight-lipped and shaken, his attorney, James V. Hayes, blasted the board.

"The board obviously was defending itself," said Hayes.

"It lacks the stature of its own trial committee. I have demanded that I be supplied with a stenographic transcript of all proceedings, but all I have been promised is the formal minutes.

"I am presently considering an appeal to Commissioner of Education Louis Wilson. My personal opinion is that the action of the board is an outrage."

Holman's clearance by the trial committee last week was by a 2-1 vote and the board said in a statement that with one revision, the board adopted the recommendations of the minority report and found Prof. Holman "guilty of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming a teacher."

The minority report of the trial committee, written by Porter R. Chandler, recommended that Holman be found guilty on two specifications:

1. That he knew about, but failed to act, regarding Sand's "impropriety" in approaching Ed Warner, a CCNY player, regarding a South American trip and a "play-for-pay" plan.

2. That he conspired to conceal a letter written by Sand to Warner offering inducements not in keeping with the player's amateur status.

So technically, it was on these two points, plus part of another specification charging failure to report a bribe attempt, that the board found Holman guilty.

Regarding Sand, the board in a statement said:

"With respect to Sand, the board voted in view of his cooperation with the investigating committee, his frank admission of guilt and his expression of repentance, that his suspension without pay be continued until March 3, 1954, and that he be restored with a reprimand, to such duties as the president of City College may designate, as of March 4, 1954."

Carter Seeking Early Finish in DeMarco Fight

By MURRAY ROSE

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP)—The championship has changed lightweight king Jimmy Carter in many ways. He's a better fighter, more confident, and richer.

In one way he hasn't changed, however. He won't make a prediction on any of his fights.

The 30-year-old New York Negro has won his last three title fights by knockouts and you get the feeling at his camp here that he expects to do the same thing to Paddy DeMarco in their title scrap at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Only he won't say so. That end of the business he leaves to manager Willie Ketchum and trainer Sammy Cherin.

"Jimmy's going to knock him out," said Willie confidently. 'He gets better all the time."

'This isn't going 15—nine or 10 is more likely," said Cherin. "DeMarco might get knocked out earlier. It all depends on how soon he has to drop his hands to protect his belly."

That gives you an idea of what kind of fight the flat-nosed Negro plans to make against the aggressive, 26-year-old Brooklyn challenger. The champ has been concentrating on solid left hooks to the midsection. He hopes to wear down the incoming DeMarco with body blows to set him up for a kayo.

"I just hope he comes in swinging like he says he intends to do,' said Carter. "I have to chase most opponents. I'll meet him with the right kinds of punches."

Jimmy sizes up DeMarco as "a strong, awkward, crowding guy. His style is supposed to discourage you. But I've fought discouragers before.

"I'm set to go 15 rounds if I have to. I've done it before. He's never gone the distance. He may find it tougher than he thinks."

The fight will be carried by radio and television, starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Charles Facing Charge After Traffic Accident

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former world's heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles was cited last night on a charge of failure to give the right of way to a pedestrian after his automobile struck and seriously injured Leo Cottingham.

Charles, who is scheduled to fight heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano in New York June 17, was ordered to appear in traffic court Tuesday.

Cottingham was hit at a street intersection. Charles told police he did not see the man.

LANDY MISSES AGAIN

MELBOURNE (AP)—John Landy, Australia's premier miler, failed again today in an attempt to run the first four-minute mile. He was timed in 4:05.9.

Middlecoff Begins Action at Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, back in action after a 10-day illness, began defense today of his $30,000 Houston Open golf title.

The Memphis dentist was a top favorite despite having been out of tournament competition since he lost the Phoenix Open playoff Feb. 8 to Ed Furgol.

The only two-time winner here, Middlecoff had a 68 yesterday for his final practice round.

The starting field of 159 included such stars as Jim Ferrier, Jimmy Demoret, Jackie Burke Jr., Tommy Bolt, Lloyd Mangrum, Julius Boros, Walter Burkemo, Chandler Harper and Dutch Harrison.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

They were amazed to think the Ashland Arrows had whipped the lanky Tygers twice in the same season and they were thinking of how tough Coach Vern Hoffman's squad would be next season.

SHORT

Hoffman threw his regular starting five against the Prexies and they gave the hottest shooting demonstration seen in Marion this season. The towering crew popped away at the basket 53 times and connected on 22 for a 42 per cent plus average.

That entire lineup will be back for further action next year and already the Tygers are being tabbed in some quarters as potential state titlists.

LEADING THE quintet is big 6-5 George Swank at the center post. He is assisted by Phil Tinkey, 6-4, and Jack Neal, 6-5, at the forwards and last, but certainly not least, are a pair of deadshot guards, Dave Jacoby, 5-6, and Bill Mack, 5-6. Both Mack and Jacoby can rip a team apart with long set shots from outside zone defenses.

To help that five, Hoffman also will have Roy Miller, a 6-4 center, and Jack Nichols, 6-0 forward, back. The boys are all members of the junior class with the exception of Jacoby who has nailed down a varsity letter this year as a sophomore.

Jacoby is the shortest player dressing with the Mansfield team for tourney action. Only four others on the team are under the six-foot mark.

WHILE PREXY fans were worrying about the Mansfield entry of next year, they found one performer who caused them to look ahead happily to the next campaign.

He was sophomore Lowell McFann, who at 6-3 is the tallest Harding cager in uniform. McFann proved he'll be a tough candidate to keep out of the pivot spot next season. Jim Lawler also will have the services of Dave Lockwood, who has been dressing regularly with the varsity squad. Dave is another sophomore and reaches the 6-1 mark.

Fights Last Night

DETROIT — Holly Mims, 153, Washington, outpointed Moses Ward, 160, Detroit, 10.

Virginia and Oregon have no sales or cigaret taxes.

Baron Scoring Leaders Stay Among Top 10

Marion's Kenny Schultz and Gordon Vejprava continue to hold their positions in the International Hockey League scoring race according to latest figures from the IHL office.

Schultz, who has been troubled by a knee injury, is running third in the league scoring race with 88 points on 44 goals and a like number of assists.

A second fox hunt sponsored by the Morral Volunteer Firemen is scheduled for Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Morral Fire Hall.

Hunters are to bring shotguns only and everyone is invited to participate. Lunch will be served at noon at the fire hall. The first hunt was held last Saturday. Approximately 55 hunters who went out in the afternoon bagged nine foxes.

Coffee was imported into Colonial America at least as early as 1670.

Avila Appears Cinch To Hold Cleveland Post

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Bobby Avila, 27-year-old Mexican jumping bean, enjoys greater job security on the Cleveland Indians this year than almost any other member of the Tribe.

Except for slugger Al Rosen, the young second baseman appears to be top man on the Indians' "wanted" list.

George Strickland and Avila collaborated on a double play technique that made it the most productive in the league last year. That was after shortstop Ray Boone was traded to the Detroit Tigers in June.

Avila explained that in 1952 he had to work with first baseman Luke Easter, a slow mover, besides Boone, who was nursing a knee injury.

"Booney ees my good friends," he said. "He ees a nice guy, but he ees no shortstop. You know dot. I would nevair know what he would do next. We could nevair get together."

ELIGIBLE ICE MEN

MONTREAL (AP)—Female hockey fans should know that there are only 36 ba helors in the National Hockey League. The Detroit Red Wings lead the pack with eight single men. The New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks have seven each. The Boston Bruins claim six and the Toronto Maple Leafs five. The Montreal Canadiens list only three bachelors.

Army Calls Yanks' Martin; Coleman To Handle Second

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Call it the luck of the Yankees if you like, but somehow, somewhere, the five-time world champions always manage to come up with a replacement for their departed stars.

Billy Martin, the hero of the 1953 World Series, was Army-bound today after working out for exactly two days, but his departure was causing no furrows in the brows of the Yank brass. Sitting quietly on the sidelines was Gerry Coleman, the same fellow who left the second-base job to Martin when he was called into the Marine Corps in 1952.

Now the situation is reversed. Martin had the position, and it was Coleman who was the substitute. Billy the kid, who all but pulverized the Brooklyn Dodgers last fall, was to report to the Army in San Francisco next Monday for his second hitch.

He served 5½ months starting in November 1950 and was short just two weeks of the six-month mark, which would have made him ineligible for recall. He was discharged because he claimed four dependents.

Now he has five, but the Army reclassified him 1-A nonetheless.

His mother called him from his home in Berkeley, Calif., yesterday with the news. She admitted later that she knew he had been called before spring training "but I just didn't have the heart to tell him about it."

Elsewhere along the grapefruit circuit:

Wally Westlake faces a tough battle for the Cleveland Indians right field post from Dave Philley, a newcomer, but he thinks he will hold the post after hitting .330 last year . . . St. Louis Manager Eddie Stanky will start Niles Jordan, a 27-year-old left-hander, against the Yanks in the first exhibition game Saturday.

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox is high on outfielder Jackie Jensen, observing that Jackie doesn't look as heavy as last year . . . "For the first time since 1949 I haven't got an ache or a pain," said Phil Rizzutto Yanks' veteran shortstop . . . Manager Eddie Joost said the A's haven't played any intrasquad games yet because "I've seen a thousand of those games where the pitcher couldn't get the ball over the plate and everybody else stood around bored and disgusted."

Morral in Action

St. Mary Quintet Tries Again To Open Tournament Action

St. Mary's Irish are scheduled for their opening start in the Central District Class B Basketball Tournament at Capital tonight after weather yesterday forced postponement of tourney action both at Capital and Otterbein

The tourney was called off at 3 p m after the heavy snow fall made driving conditions in this area hazardous and the games were moved back one day.

Thus tonight at 8 30 p m , St Mary will be taking on Northwestern 15-7, after Newark St Francis, 19-3 battles Howard, 9-12, in the opening game of the card at Capital at 7 p m.

At the same time at Otterbein, Hebron 21-2 will be facing Johnsville, 18-5 and Amanda, Fairfield County League champion with a 14-5 mark, will be opposing Morral, 18-5 Marion County's third-place squad

Prospect, Marion County's other remaining entrant in district competition, is slated for action Friday at Capital. Coach Bob Kelly's Bulldogs, with a 17-4 record, will take on Williamsport, last year's tournament co-champion with a 17-4 slate, in the opening tilt The second game pits Lancaster St Mary, 15-7, against Fredericktown, 17-5. At Otterbein the same night, Olentangy, champion of the Delaware County League with a 20-4 mark, will meet Gananna, Franklin County Tournament champ, in a 7 p m contest and Liberty Union of Fairfield County, 14 6, will take the floor against Magnetic Springs, 11-10.

The extsa day came as good news to St Mary. It gave Mike Anderson, St Mary s ace scorer and board man, one more day to rest his badly sprained left ankle which he suffered in the exempted village and parochial school tourney game with Granville last week A win there qualified the Irish for district play for the second straight year

Should Anderson still not be ready for action tonight, it is expected that either John Messenger or Don Shoemaker will fill his spot at forward Other Irish starters will be Jack O'Keeffe at forward Roger Micheli at center and Butch Merchant and Jerry Ballenger at the guard posts

Northwestern, Union County league champ and tournament runner-up with a 15-7 mark, will probably have Harold Herd, 6-0 senior, and Larry Michael 6-3 junior, at the forwards, Hayes Crum, 5-11 senior, at center, and George Steele 5 6 junior, and Bill Nibert, 5-6 senior, at guards

Crum has been the big gun for the squad from Raymond in Union County but scoring has been evenly distributed

Thus far, Anderson is St Mary's big gun with 298 points with Micheli and Merchant trailing him Both have 218 points over the season Messenger has chipped in with 86 Ballenger 82, O Keeffe 76 and Larry Ryan 51.

Top Teams Win

Snow Hits Tourney Action; Surprises Also Mar Contests

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown and Lockland Wayne, top-rated teams in the final Associated Press poll, hopped their first hurdles last night in their race for the 1954 state high school championships.

Middletown, Class A king the last two years, had no trouble brushing aside West Carrollton by 73-45 in the Dayton sectional, and Lockland Wayne, the 1952 Class B ruler, breezed past Batavia 47-33 at Cincinnati

Those were the big ones as the scholastic stars battled in 42 sectional meets to determine next week's district tournament qualifiers.

A schedule change is in the making, for snow drifts and high winds over the Northern half of the state have delayed numerous contests Both Class B events in the central district, at Columbus and Westerville, were postponed because of the poor weather, as were the Class A sectional at Marion and practically everything in the Cleveland area.

Earlier postponements were chalked up at Sandusky and Kent—making it probable the sectional play will not be completed by the Saturday night deadline

Coaches Paul Walker of Middletown and Joe Martin of Lockland Wayne used their substitutes practically the entire second half in chalking up their inaugural wins in the sectionals The Middies had a 45-19 edge at the half, and Lockland led 24-17 at the intermission

The weather didn t cause all the upsets, as some of the lowly-rated squads rose up to smack down highly-favored foes

Columbus Aquinas, after losing 12 straight city league games nosed out Columbus Central 52-48 in the central District Class A meet Kenton which had won only 3 games, upset Lima South 50-43 at Bluffton, Zanesville (6-12) won 65-55 over Cambridge (13-5) at Cambridge, East Liverpool (11-9) was a 66-56 victor over Mingo (16-4) and Dayton Dunbar (4-13) upset Dayton Oakwood (9-8) 42-40

However, in Class A, Niles won its 22nd in a row, 54-42 over Youngstown Ursuline and Tecumseh made it 19 straight with a 57-50 triumph over Urbana

Among the top upsets in Class B were West Union (13-13) defeated Buford (17-6) 61-43 , at Waverly Chauncey-Dover (6-13) defeated Somerset Holy Trinity (17-4), by 58-56, and Middleport (9-7) defeated Racine (19-2) 71-69 in an overtime at Athens

Top games tonight unless the weather interferes again are

Class A Canton McKinley vs North Canton at Canton Toledo Macomber vs Toledo Whitmer at Toledo, Greenfield (19-1) vs Marietta (11-6) at Athens Dayton Roosevelt (16 1) vs Dayton Kiser (2-14) at Dayton, and Hamilton (17-3) vs Mount Healthy (3-14) at Cincinnati

Class B Bournesville-Twin (19-1) Lynchburg (17-7) at Waverly, Vienna (26-0) vs Warren St Mary (10-5) at Youngstown Savannah (20-4) vs Shreve (15 1) at Ashland, Pleasant City (20-4) vs Dresden (15-6) at Zanesville Gratis (21-4) vs Xenia Woodrow Wilson (14-7) at Xenia and Tuscarawas (18-2) vs Dover St Joe (10-10) at Dover

The week s games should cut the starting fields of 287 Class A and 781 Class B squads down to around 80 in each division for district play Of that group 16 in each class will qualify for regional play the week of March 14-20, with four in each division going to Cleveland March 26-27 for the state championship scraps.

Tebbetts Picks 3 Pitchers for Exhibition Tilt

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts said today he plans to use three of his winter league pitchers in the Cincinnati Redlegs' opening exhibition game against the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

Tebbetts picked Howie Judson a former White Sox, Herman Wehmeier and Willie Powell All three participated in winter league competition

Tebbetts had high praise yesterday for the showing thus far in practice of Judson, Wehemeier, Joe Nuxhall and Corky Valentine.

BRADENTON, Fla (AP)—Effective pitching was the feature of the Milwaukee Braves' second intrasquad game yesterday as the Regulars and the Yannigans played to a 1-1 seven-inning tie

TAMPA Fla (AP) — Among the most satisfactory newcomers to the Chicago White Sox fold in the opinion of Manager Paul Richards is Coach Marty Marion.

Marion managed the St Louis Browns last season but was not retained by the club when it moved to Baltimore

"He's the best coach I've ever had," says Richards "If these infielders don't learn something under his tutelage we might as well send them home They'll never learn anything anywhere "

SARASOTA, Fla (AP) — Manager Lou Boudreau has scheduled his first serious intra-squad practice game as a part of today's Boston Red Sox workout It will be at least eight innings

Dividends From Tourney Reach New Record Here

The $270 dividenrs paid each participating school in the recent county basketball tournament was a new high, Ivan Barnhart, tournament manager reported today Previous high was $255 paid last year.

The total of $2 970 paid in school dividends plus the $312 left in the balance after payment of bills allowed the tourney to finish in the black with a profit of $3 282 Barnhart reported instead of the $312 profit listed in yesterday s issue of The Star

The balance from each year s tournament is used to finance the spring sports programs at the 11 county schools and to purchase pins for the honor society in the county

Two Leaders Fall

Upset-Minded Hoopsters Ignore Tournament Bids

NEW YORK (AP) — The Bradley and St Francis of Brooklyn basketball teams have learned to their sorrow that a bid to one of the big postseason tournaments isn t worth any points in a regular-season game

Bradley which meets Oklahoma City in a first-round game of the National Collegiate Basketball Championships was favored over St Louis last night and ran up a 10-point lead in the first quarter But St Louis, running fourth in the Missouri Valley Conference and never a contender for any tournament pulled even by halftime and kept going for an 89-79 upset Bradley had beaten its old rival 76-59 earlier in the season

St Francis had an even ruder surprise The Terriers took their 20-3 record and National Invitation Tournament credentials up to play Siena which had won only 5 of 18 Siena came from a 12-point deficit to score a 67-60 upset

The two big tournaments split even in intertournament battles for prestige as the NCAA s Fordham outlasted Manhattan of the NIT in overtime 73-68 and Wichita of the NIT whipped Oklahoma City 76-60

Ed Conlin once again was the difference for Fordham as the Rams won a thriller from their old interborough rivals He tied the game at 62-62 in regular time then put in the first two baskets as Fordham dominated the overtime period

Arnold Short Oklahoma City s ace made 30 for his team but it wasn t enough as Wichita spurted in the second period for a commanding lead and eased in

Wichita had a hand in the selecting of the only NCAA team named yesterday Oklahoma A&M Since the Missouri Valley Conference race won t be settled until the Aggies' game with St Louis Saturday night Wichita asked for and got a release from any commitment to represent the conference in the NCAA A St Louis victory Saturday would leave the Aggies and Wichita as co-champions

Now however Wichita will play Bowling Green in the NIT first round Saturday and Oklahoma A&M will meet the Southwest Conference champion in the NCAA regional tournament on its home floor March 12

The NIT completed its field yesterday with the addition of Brigham Young third place team in the Mountain States (Skyline) Conference The NIT also announced its seedings Duquesne first then Western Kentucky, Holy Cross and Niagara All draw first-round byes Louisville another NIT team whipped Eastern Kentucky 93-77 and NCAA-bound Connecticut employed an all-court press to put away from Columbia for an 80-64 victory

Penn defending Ivy League champions kept their hopes for another title alive by humbling Harvard 87-46 to tie Princeton for second place Both have 9 3 marks to Cornell s 10-2 but Cornell must play at Penn Saturday and at Princeton Monday

Tinian Another in Defense Chain

U.S. Navy Mans Pacific Island Bases

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

SAIPAN (AP)—The roads and runways of the once-mighty island bases of Saipan and Tinian are putting up a fight against the relentless jungle, corrosion and decay.

So far these great concrete strips, which launched America's deadly bomber raids against Japan in World War II, are holding their own. But the guns, trucks and equipment abandoned at war's end have given up to the elements. They are gradually crumbling to nothing.

A small Navy force mans Saipan today. Their job is to keep open certain airfields for transient aircraft flying through to the Far East and to supervise the native population of Saipan and neighboring islands in running their own affairs.

FOR THE MEN stationed on Saipan and Tinian boredom is a constant problem. But the Navy has come up with a surprising peacetime project which is keeping some personnel busy in a new line. It's raising beef cattle.

On Tinian are about 120 head of cattle under Navy care, mostly brahmas or crosses of brahmas with angus, hereford and shorthorns. On Saipan are 40 or 50 more. There also are four horses, but two of them haven't been broken yet.

A pair of tars from Texas are in charge of that project: Yoeman Ralph Lee of Booker and M. D. Matteson, construction worker third class from New Boston. As soon as they break the horses, the two steeds will be sent to Saipan, where Matteson is normally stationed.

"Shore be glad to get them," he confessed. "These brahmas are skittish. They're rough to handle, especially afoot. They've worked me over a couple of times. Fortunately I wasn't hurt bad."

MOST OF THE CATTLE were imported by the United States to improve the native stock. An experimental farm has been set up on Saipan under the supervision of Navy civil service worker Frank Brown.

Brown is sold on the brahmas as the best cattle for the islands.

"They resist ticks and prosper much better than other stock," he says.

Once they have produced a strain that does well on the islands, calves branded "U.S. Navy" will be distributed among native farmers where they're a ready market for meat. In 10 years, Brown thinks, the islands may have herds big enough for export.

Between Navy jobs, farming and work with metal salvage companies, Saipan natives manage to maintain a fairly strong economy.

The pay for a common laborer on Saipan is 37 cents an hour. Semi-skilled workers make as much as $2,500 a year.

—:—

THE ISLANDS are policed by a native constabulary which works under the Navy command.

In contrast to Guam and Kwajalein, none of the Navy structures on Saipan or neighboring islands are permanent.

From the air Tinian and little Rota look like solid jungle. But standing out on the north end of Tinian is the huge B29 field where the first atom bomb was assembled.

The building where the bomb was put together still stands.

Service stations, movies and stores have sprung up in Saipan's biggest town, Chalan Kanoa. There are three elementary and one intermediate school.

Children of naval personnel on the island go to separate schools. About 40 per cent of the Navy men here have their families with them.

It's not the most pleasant spot in the world, but if the Navy has its way, it some day may be one of the most pastoral.

Kindness is the golden chain by which society is bound together. —Goethe

Police Aid Zanesville Driver, Now Have Auto

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mick Politis, a Zanesville cafe operator, couldn't get his 1937 sedan started. Patrolmen Cam Agin and Carl Ray finally got it going for him.

At Politis' request, Agin drove it to police headquarters. There the cafe owner tried to make the car a present to the officers. They refused, but Politis left the car anyway. It's still there.

Dayton Paper Lists 3 Counties Due for Polio Vaccine Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Health Department said today an announcement of three counties to take part in a nationwide trial of a polio vaccine will be made next week. But the Dayton Daily News reported these counties probably will be Montgomery, Summit and Richland.

The Dayton newspaper said it had learned from its own sources that these three counties would be among 200 in the country offered an opportunity to take part in the tests.

Dr. John D Porterfield, state health director, was out of town today, but Dr Frederick Wentworth, chief of the division of communicable diseases, said "definite announcement" of the counties would not be made until next Wednesday.

Fact or Fancy

By George Sokolsky

Soviet Russia has, thus far, more or less, won every diplomatic conference and has increased its realm from 180 000,000 persons to 8 0 0, 0 0 0, 0 0 0 persons since 1938 The question then arises as to whether the Soviet Universal State will continue to expand and to destroy free peoples or whether it will be destroyed by an internal revolution

SOKOLSKY

Eugene Lyons, whose knowledge of the subject cannot be doubted has written a book, "Our Secret Allies" which is being widely read by our policy makers and which sets out to tell the story of the seizure of Russia by the Bolsheviks and the inner resistance of the people to them

Lyons belongs to the sentimental school of experts on Russia, which draws fine lines of distinction between the Kremlin and the millions over whom it rules He almost treats the Kremlin as though it were the seat of an alien conquering host

THE RUSSIANS, while often admirable and always fascinating as individuals, have shown little capacity for freedom throughout their history. Conquered by aliens and ruled by them for a thousand years, their society has accustomed itself to autocracy

After a few months of freedom to the point of anarchy in the Kerensky period, the Russians returned to the absolutism to which they are accustomed in a new and worse guise under Lenin and Trotsky, and after them Stalin and Malenkov

There has never been a democratic revolution such as Western peoples have witnessed, in the whole of Russian history

Lyons, once the United Press correspondent in Russia, then for many years the editor of 'The American Mercury is now a senior editor of 'The Reader s Digest '

In the late 1930 s, his book 'Assignment in Utopia became a best seller and an eye opener for thousands of Americans hypnotized by their illusions about the "great experiment in the U S S R

His "Red Decade" is a most important contribution to the study of Communism. Therefore, when Lyons writes on Russia he must be taken seriously even if one disagrees with his present position that the forces of revolution against the Kremlin are readying themselves inside Russia.

HIS THESIS is that the overwhelming mass of Soviet citizens has never accepted the Red dictatorship Despite nearly 40 years of propaganda and terror, despite the fact that a new generation has grown up he argues that the regime has failed to win the loyalties of its subjects

What has been going on in Soviet Russia since 1917, Lyons says, is "a permanent civil war—in the first years open and military, since then largely concealed and political but even bloodier.

Once you grasp this fact much about the Soviet scene that seems baffling begins to make sense The many millions who have perished in the struggle against the regime whether finished off in police dungeons and slave camps or starved in man-made famine, are the casualties in that war

The great hordes of inmates of prisons and concentration camps are its prisoners of war

The perennial purges the liquidation of this or that class of the population the abolition of entire 'republics' and autonomous regions are battles in the war

The incessant thunder of propaganda is the psychological offense that has become an essential part of modern warfare

There are those who believe that the desire for liberty is ever existent in man and that while, for a period, he may submit to tyranny, ultimately he will strike out for freedom.

ALTHOUGH there is evidence to support a phase of Lyons s theory, namely that the Russians government has had to struggle to exist, there is no evidence that the opposition comes from the masses. It has been a conflict for power within the Communist party

Nothing has yet appeared to prove that the millions of non political persons living under a despotism will risk much for freedom

The 1917 Revolutions were not mass uprisings The Kerensky government was the end of a palace revolution the Bolshevik seizure of power was the effort of a small group of intellectuals

The Stalin purges were all against his associates in the party and government Malenkov murdered Beria to get rid of a rival

'Our Secret Allies" projects Soviet life from a novel viewpoint Lyons has retold the history of the Soviet epoch in the struggle between the masters and the slaves

Red Madman

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — Puerto Rican prison records will show that Don Albizu Campos spiritual and conspiratorial leader of the killers who opened fire on Congress, is literally a madman with long and intricate ties with Earl Browder and the Communist party of the U S and Latin America

RIESEL

Albizu Campos was freed from the Puerto Rico Federal Penitentiary only last summer after wild hallucinations He kept "warning" his jailors that Washington officials were trying to kill him with weird weapons as part of a plot which would put television script writers to shame

He shouted constantly that the government had surrounded the prison with a new type of atomic gun which trained killing or disintergating rays directly at him through the walls.

Rather than have Albizu Campos die a jailed martyr, which would arouse his small band of assassins, Governor Munoz-Marin and other responsible Puerto Rican officials decided to release him

He returned immediately to his tiny Nationalist party, which is not truly political, but rather a fanatical band pledged to political assassinations.

THE NATIONALISTS have no political base and must not be confused with the honest Independentistas, a legitimate party which campaigns on the promise that it will declare itself independent of the U S if it ever wins an electoral majority

The Albizu Campos group of killers has gone into only one political campaign. That was back in 1932 when it got all of 5 027 votes, about one per cent of those cast

From then on the organization depended on bullets not ballots It succeeded in murdering the insular police chief and almost getting the governor. Today the Nationalists are a lunatic fringe with but 1,000th of one per cent of the island s people behind it

That lunatic fringe is being exploited cunningly and deliberately by the Communist party apparatus of the Western Hemisphere

Monday s shooting resulted from the direct provocation by Soviet agents, operating on a front reaching from New York to Puerto Rico and Buenos Aires The shooting was timed for the opening of the Inter-American Conference at Caracas, which is scheduled to discuss 'non self governing territories in America '

It is known that Cheddi Jagan the notorious Sovieteering boss of the Communist-front party which almost seized British Guiana last September, also planned some sort of demonstration in Latin America and especially in Caracas to dramatize the Soviet charge that Britain and the U S hold Latin America in "colonial slavery "

THERE HAS BEEN the closest cooperation between this killer band called Nationalists and the Soviet apparatus When Albizu Campos was ill in New York after his first release from prison in 1943 he signed in at a hospital on the West Side For months he used his hospital room as a conspiratorial headquarters — and the Communists paid the bill Proof of that is in the files of our intelligence services and the State Department itself.

Furthermore Albizu Campos is known to have had contact with Earl Browder and other top Communists between 1943 and 1947 These Sovieteers told the mentally and physically sick man some of the weirdest "anti-Yanqui-imperialist" ideas — including an attack on the corruptive influences of baseball Were it not tragic, it would be hilarious to reprint some of the wild statements Campos made over the Puerto Rican radio when he returned to the island in 1948

He urged Puerto Ricans to shoot those of their fellow men who served on Selective Service Boards and attacked baseball as a corruptive device of American propaganda aimed at undermining Puerto Rican patriotism "

In 1948 the Puerto Rican Communists again helped the tiny Nationalist band — this time to organize a student strike at the University of Puerto Rico

NATIONALIST and Communist speakers urged the students to lynch the chancellor — and almost succeeded

'The Communists have always magnified Albizu Campos into a great hero,' says one government report, "since they have no outstanding personality of their own on the island It is a tactic which is useful in helping to embarrass the U S and to prepare for bloodshed on the island which are the chief immediate aims of the Communists "

Our intelligence services know that commie unions in Brooklyn and New York have supplied funds to the Nationalists, who also work with agents of Argentina s dictator, Peron They are all interested in discrediting the U S

Back in mid-October 1950, for example, the Nationalists' so-called labor section chief was flown to Argentina in one of Peron's own planes. There the "labor" man described Puerto Rico as 'a vast sugar plantation' with the U S "acting as overseer with a whip" in its hands

That s exactly the language of the Cominform agents in Guatemala Which is where we'll hear from next Just watch!

Five and Dime

By Ed Creagh

(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON

"Dusk was gathering after a gray and chilly afternoon on Feb 22, 1879 On a side street in Utica N Y, a freshly painted sign over a small shop-front proclaimed it to be the 'Great 5c Store

"Behind the store s paper - covered windows, F W Woolworth, proprietor, busied himself with last - minute preparations before opening for business

"A knock came at the door Woolworth answered it A lady, now unfortunately unidentified, held a copy of an advertising circular which the merchant had distributed that morning

'She pointed to the item 'five shovels' at 5c each Woolworth invited her in and wrapped up the shovel The customer paid him 5c in the fractional paper currency of the day, and he promptly put it into the till "

AS IT TURNED out Frank Winfield Woolworth a rags to riches self-made man if ever there was one, put quite a few pieces of folding money into the till before he was through

And the F W Woolworth Co is cheerily relating the story in an official history of itself and its founder to mark the 75th anniversary of the five and-dime institution

One thing bothers Woolworth's Who was that first customer? Why did she point to the item she wanted instead of asking for it? You have the feeling Woolworth s would do something for the old gal—maybe give her a scoop of coal for her "fire shovel, or something even handsomer—if she were around today.

CHANCES ARE though she passed away without knowing she had touched off a business venture which was destined to turn American buying and selling upside down and to produce, among countless other things, the Woolworth Bldg and Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton

Old F W himself had his doubts at times that he d amount to much The Utica store failed Poor location So he borrowed more money transferred operations to Lancaster, Pa and on the whole did pretty well for himself in years to come

Today there are 1 800 Woolworth stores in this country alone, 170 more in Canada 800-some in the British Isles 6 in Cuba and—bet you didn t know this—50 in West ern Germany Net sales of bonbons bobbie pins, baby pants and the like Upward of 700 million dollars a year.

WOOLWORTH DID wonders for the store business He introduced the fixed price system—no bargaming with the man behind the counter. He put goods where you could see and handle them He outlawed buying on credit, though that ban has since been relaxed Today a French Canadian customer can buy a doll on the plan budget aire,' or lay-away system

Some minor accomplishments of the Woolworth empire hold their own fascination It was this outfit which popularized ice cream in Cuba to say nothing of hot dogs and turkey dinners

ALL TOLD the Woolworth's of today is a pretty impressive monument to a Watertown N Y, lad who started his business career at nothing a week He hired out as a stockroom boy on a trial basis The first three months were on the cuff—his cuff When he d proved himself the boss put him on the payroll at $3 50 a week This wasn't much but then it was only an 84 hour work week

He's County's Oldest

Galion's 'Doc' Hartmann Recalls Earlier Practice

GALION — By horseback, on a bicycle, on foot, often with a two-wheel cart, over the mud roads of the mining country of southeastern Ohio, Dr. H. H Hartmann began his early practice of medicine. Today marks the 64th anniversary of his graduation from Columbus Medical School.

Nearly 84 years old, "Doc," as he is familiarly known, is the oldest practicing physician in Crawford County, and one of the oldest in the state.

Often by the light of the moon, Dr Hartmann made his race with the stork, riding horseback over the southern Ohio hills.

"While I waited for the stork's arrival, sometimes it would be all night, I could hear the wind come howling through the cracks of the cabins which were set up on stilts in those days. There were no cement or stone foundations as they have in the modern homes there today," Dr Hartmann reminisces

Sometimes he slept on two chairs which were pulled together beside an old kitchen stove. Other times he just dropped his head over on the table and went to sleep.

"A DOCTOR IN THOSE DAYS had to wash the baby, and take care of the mother, too. There were no nurses or hospitals, then," the doctor recalls. "I had to practically carry a drug store with me, because the people could not get to town to a drug store to fill out a prescription as they do now."

Dr. Hartmann was in the mining country for six years. He was located at Jacksonville, Athens County. He went there in 1892 as a physician for the WP Wrend Mining Co. that owned three mines nearby.

"I received a dollar a month per head for caring for the miners," the doctor remembers.

Right after "Doc" Hartmann received his diplomas on March 4, 1890, he came back to Galion, his home town, and worked for two years with the late Dr Charles Coyle. That was because his mother was ill, and he wanted to be near her. After her death in 1892, he went to Jacksonville While there he was asked to serve as mayor of the town

Dr. Hartmann took post graduate work, including study at the Polyclinic Hospital in New York City.

WITHOUT A DOUBT, the many bottles of "pills" in the drug store operated by "Doc" Hartmann's father on Galion's main street inspired "Doc" to want to become a doctor. His father, native of Germany, was a Galion druggist for many years.

It wasn't until 1910 that "Doc" Hartmann had his first automobile to use in his practice in Galion when he came back here after six years at Jacksonville That was the same year that he was elected mayor of Galion He served 10 terms, a period of 20 years as Galion's mayor, completing his last mayoralty in 1949.

The doctor and his wife live in the same house where he was born on June 13, 1870 He takes his calls from his home now, most of his patients being those who have looked to him through the years.

THE DOCTOR WALKS with a spritely step. Most any day he can be seen walking through the business section

"What do you do for your health . . . you are looking so wonderful and keep going everyday. Do you prescribe a certain diet?" the doctor has been asked

"Oh, I just eat what I want, never have gone to bed early, always had lots of business to look after. Expect you ought to see a doctor when you get sick' . . . this is his prescription

Grand Jury Report Of Inspection Fails To Disclose Facts

READING, Pa. (AP)—The 18 members of the March Berks County grand jury issued a complaint after paying a quarterly inspection visit to county institutions that the bill-of-fare at the old folks home was just so-so. The menu fried liver and onions.

They recommend dismissal of the home's dietician, Edna McGee of Philadelphia

But at the county jail, the grand jury reported, the kitchen staff really put on a feed—steak with all the trimmings

What the grand jury report failed to mention, however, was that the prison had one menu for the jurors and another for the inmates. At the old folks home, jurors and patients had the same meal.

This disclosure yesterday resulted in the County Commission postponing action on the dismissal recommendation.

Serve This Golden Shrimp Loaf During Lent

A change from the cheese, spaghetti, egg substitute-for-meat routine during Lent is a shrimp loaf. Unusually tasty and pretty, it is easy to make.

Breaded shrimp supplies the chief flavor for this one dish meal. By using the frozen kind, you'll find you will save time in preparing the meal. They do not need to be thawed before using.

Follow these directions.

Use: 1 large loaf firm textured unsliced bread, ½ cup melted butter or margarine, 1 pkg. frozen breaded shrimp, 1 can condensed mushroom soup, 1 10-oz. can minced clams, drained, one-third cup dry Vermouth x.

Trim crusts from bread loaf, keeping rounded shape on top. Cut crosswise into 6 slices to within ½ inch of bottom of loaf. Cut through middle of loaf lengthwise, to within ½ inch of bottom of loaf, thus forming 12 squares. Brush all cut surfaces and outside of loaf with melted butter or margarine. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F., until toasted golden brown. Meanwhile, saute shrimp in-a-Jacket as directed on package. Combine soup, clams and Vermouth, heat. Pour over toasted loaf. Surround with shrimp.

xOr use liquid from clams plus water, if necessary, to make one-third cup.

George Parr Wars With Governor

Big Texas Political Boss Fights Ouster

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — George Parr, long-time boss of a bloc-voting, five-county south Texas area, pondered his next move today in his bitter fight to maintain power.

Due in court March 15 on a pistol-carrying charge brought by a political foe, Parr yesterday was denied an injunction request against two Texas Rangers he accuses of wanting to kill him.

Foe of Governor

His most recent court troubles followed vows by Gov. Allan Shivers and State Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd to "clean up the Duval County mess."

Shepperd and his aides, helped by the state auditor's staff, have been investigating financial affairs of Duval County and its independent school districts.

Postal inspectors have been investigating affairs in the county and internal revenue agents have been looking into Parr's income tax returns. Once before he served a term in federal prison for income tax evasion.

Parr hired famed civil rights attorney Arthur Garfield Hays of New York to represent him in his fight against Ranger Capt. Alfred Allee and Ranger Joe Bridge.

Loses Court Battle

But the three-judge federal panel said it had no jurisdiction in Parr's plea against Bridge and "gravely doubted" that jurisdiction was shown in charges against Capt. Allee. The plea against Bridge was dismissed and the injunction request against Allee was denied.

The court said evidence presented by Parr and Hays did not convince it that Parr's life was in danger from Allee.

But the three judges said their opinion should not be taken to mean that they "condone or approve" of Bridge slapping Parr's nephew, Duval County Sheriff Archer Parr, on Jan. 18 nor of Allee slapping Dist. Atty. Raburn Norris Feb. 9.

"Disciplining of these defendants," the eight-page opinion said, "is not within our jurisdiction."

Hearing Set

A hearing is set in Alice, in adjoining Jim Wells County, Saturday on a motion to dismis an assault to murder indictment against the two rangers. The indictment grew out of the Jan. 18 courthouse brawl in which Bridge slapped Archer Parr. George Parr's ear was bloodied in the fracas.

Allee, his gun drawn, stepped back from the melee as a woman reporter screamed, "Cap, don't! Cap, don't! Parr said the woman's screams kept Allee from killing him.

Bridge said the argument arose after Archer Parr "insulted me and the Ranger force," Archer had brought George Parr to Alice for a hearing on the gun-carrying complaint brought by Manuel Marroguin, a leader of the Freedom party, organized to oppose Parr's regime.

Parr and an associate, Juan Barrera, face trial March 15 on the pistol-carrying indictment.

Morton Dorsey of Chillicothe as the preacher and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bierce of Logansport, Ind., as the music evangelists. The special effort will be continued through Sunday.

Last night, Rev. Dorsey's message was taken from the last 10 verses of the twenty-fourth chapter of Luke, commenting particularly on the words of Jesus, "I send the promise of my Father upon you; but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high." He said, "The promise of the Father is fullness of the Holy Ghost. This promis is to those who trust in Him, who have received Him as their personal savior. His power is the power that purifies, removes the evil in the heart and soul so that the Holy Ghost can take control of lives and rule and reign in hearts that are in tune with Him."

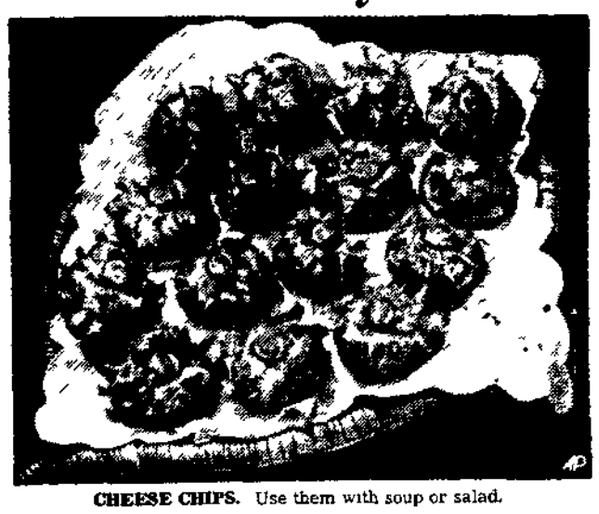
Hot Bread Tricks Are Handy for Lent

Cornmeal Shortcake and Mushroom Sauce Is Hearty Main Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Hot bread tricks come in mighty handy during Lent. They'll help you vary those meatless meals and give such a satisfying touch. take these Cheese Chips—delicate little biscuits made of cornmeal and pancake ready-mix, rolled in potato chips, then baked with a cube of cheese in the center. They taste delicious with a soup or salad, they're perfect for an afternoon or evening snack.

For a meatless main course, we suggest Cornbread Shortake with Mushroom Cheese Sauce. It's a hearty dish that will satisfy even the most robust appetites in your family.



CHEESE CHIPS. Use them with soup or salad.

CHEESE CHIPS

Ingredients: 1¼ cups pancake ready-mix, ½ cup enriched cornmeal, 1-3 cup shortening, 2-3 cup milk, ½ cup crushed potato chips, 20 small cubes processed American cheese

Method: Mix together pancake ready-mix and cornmeal. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once, stirring lightly only until mixture is dampened. (Dough will be quite soft.) Using about 1 tablespoon of the dough for each, shape into small balls. Roll balls in crushed potato chips. Place the balls on a lightly greased cooky sheet; make a thumb print in the center of each of the balls. Fill each hole with a small cube of cheese. Bake in a hot (440F) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 18 to 20 biscuits.

CORNBREAD SHORTCAKE

Ingredients: ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup finely diced green pepper, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 cup cornmeal, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg (beaten), 1 cup buttermilk

Method: Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add green pepper and cook about 3 minutes. Sift together flour, cornmeal, baking powder, baking soda and salt the mixing bowl. Add egg, green pepper and melted butter in pan, and milk. Mix together thoroughly and pour into well greased 8-inch square baking pan. Bake in hot (400F) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 35 minutes. Meanwhile make Mushroom Cheese Sauce.

MUSHROOM CHEESE SAUCE

Ingredients ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup finely diced onion, ¼ cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup 4 (ounces) diced American cheese, 1 cup cooked drained green peas

Method: Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and cook about 1 minute. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and mushrooms including liquid in can. Cook, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese, stir over very low heat until cheese melts. Add peas and heat thoroughly. Cut Cornbread Shortcake in squares, split and serve with Mushroom Cheese Sauce between and over the squares. Makes 6 servings.

Doctor Sues Film Magnate, Asks Fee

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charles P. Skouras, theater chain magnate, has been sued for a $10,000 doctor bill.

The suit was filed here yesterday on behalf of Dr. Richard Langendorf, a Chicago specialist, for services to Skouras during the theater man's illness from a heart attack in the Illinois city last November.

A spokesman for Skouras said Dr. Langendorf was called in as a consultant but that Skouras considered his fee exorbitant. The Skouras representative said it was proposed that the matter be submitted to arbitration by a panel of doctors but this offer was refused.

Convict Denied Request To Attend Father's Rites

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Tomoya Kawakita will not be allowed to leave Alcatraz Prison, where he is serving a life term for treason, to attend his father's funeral here tomorrow.

Morris Lavine, attorney for the Japanese - American during his trial, said he asked the permission but that James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons, denied the request.

Kawakita's conviction was based on his activities as overseer of a Japanese prisoner of war camp and his treatment of United States prisoners.

Richwood Students Join Honor Society

RICHWOOD — The annual installation ceremony of the Richwood Chapter of the National Honor Society was held in the school auditorium Sunday, when 11 new members received the coveted pin of the organization.

At a candlelight ceremony, Marilyn Bond, Rebecca Ellinwood, Valeta Grindell, Yvonne Marvin and Marilyn Payne of the class of 1954, and David Allen, Janice Erwin, Marjorie Foos, Dale Holbrook, Robert Matlack and Thad Sieg of the class of 1955 were installed as chapter members. About 100 guests consisting of the parents and friends of the initiates, active and alumni members of the chapter, faculty and friends attended.

Betty Jo Webster, president, welcomed the guests and Rebecca Morrison, vice president, read parts of the chapter constitution. Perry Allen represented the county board of education and Chester Parrott represented the Richwood board in short talks. Principal speaker of the afternoon was W. D. Cochran, an alumnus member of the Marion Harding High School chapter.

Following the installation, refreshments prepared under the direction of Mrs. Freda Kyle and Mrs. Lucille Peoples, were served by the active members of the chapter.

Marion Women Report Six Deer East of LaRue

Mrs. Lloyd Ledley of Orchard St. and a cousin, Mrs. Don McAninch of Mansfield, a former Marion resident, and unexpected company as they returned from visiting Mrs. McAninch's mother, Mrs. Vernon Secord, at LaRue last Sunday afternoon.

The pair were traveling by automobile between LaRue and New Bloomington just before dusk when they spotted a group of six deer.

The biggest of the group was standing in the road staring right at the women and they were forced to slow the car before it ran from sight.

Five others were huddled together in the ditch along the road, Mrs. Ledley said, and they ran to the left into a field.

Mrs. Ledley said she and Mr. Ledley have a cottage in Michigan where they spend the summers but she said she had never seen that many deer before.

'Save Your Vision' Week Proclaimed by Robinson

Marion Mayor Harold F. Robinson today proclaimed next week, March 7 through 13 as Save Your Vision week.

He said that neglect of vision "the most precious of our senses" may handicap the growth and development of children, hamper the safety, comfort and efficiency of all who work, add to the highway traffic toll and rob the aged of "their richest blessing."

He called on all citizens to dedicate the week to the protection and improvement of their vision.

Save Your Vision week is sanctioned by the Ohio State Optometric Association. Officers for the North Central Ohio Optometrical Association are Dr. A. D. Talbott of Bucyrus, president and Dr. Glenn Burton of Marion, secretary-treasurer.

Boy Involved in Theft Sent to State Bureau

A 16-year-old Marion County boy, taken into custody Saturday night after attempting to break into the Palace Recreation Bowling Alley on W. Center St., was ordered committed to the Bureau of Juvenile Research in Columbus when he appeared before Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo Wednesday.

The boy admitted having broken into the place previously when he stole about $43 and some cigarets.

A 14-year-old and a 15-year-old who were with him at the time of the attempted break-in Saturday, will appear in Juvenile Court on the charges next week.

Caledonia Mayor Resigns From Post

S. T. Doyle resigned as mayor of Caledonia at the Wednesday night meeting of the village Council.

Doyle, who served about 25 years ago in the same position, was unopposed in last November's election. He succeeded H. O. Thompson.

Slated to take the mayor's job is the president of the village council, Lowell Douce, of Douce and Company Inc., an insurance firm which has offices here and at Caledonia.

Council also decided to postpone action on the opening of Elm St. because of lack of funds.

THE WRONG WAY

JACKSON, Mich. (UP) — Willis Jones, 42, picked up by Jackson police for breaking into a grocery store, blamed his situation on the government: "I'm in trouble with the government because of income tax, and I was just trying to get some money to pay off."

Officials Study Bids on Traffic Light Controls

Committee of Council Will Meet Tonight To Give Recommendation

The finance committee of City Council will take action tonight on five bids received by the city Wednesday for traffic light control mechanisms to be installed in the city.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson announced that low bidder was the Brickey Telephone and Supply Co. of Columbus, representing the Marblelight brand of equipment. The bid was $2,667.60.

Low bid on installation was $1,687 made by Lawrence B. Morse of 545 Avondale Ave.

Bidders had an option of making a combined bid for equipment and installation or separate bids. All submitted separate bids.

Other companies biding were the Eagle Signal Co., $2,706.40, Southern Signal Co., $2,940; the Crouse Hinds Co., $3,080; and General Electric Co., $3,892.40.

A second installation bid was received from Robert J. Vaughan, 122 Court St., Marion, but Mayor Robinson said this estimate did not meet specifications and would be declared invalid.

The mayor said he expects the finance committee to recommend acceptance of the low bids to the Council and that Council will approve the drawing up of contracts Monday night.

The equipment is individual traffic light control units that will enable police to regulate each light separately. This will mean that each light can be timed so that traffic can move through town at a constant rate of speed. With the present equipment every light in the downtown area has to be set to change at the same time interval regardless of whether it is a short or long distance from an adjacent light. The new equipment when installed will alleviate many stops and starts for motorists as well as the bunching-up of traffic during rush hours, Mayor Robinson said.

The new controls are to be installed at the intersections of Center St. with State, Main, Prospect, Oak, and Orchard; and on Church St. at the intersection with Orchard, Prospect, Main and State.

HABIT-FORMING

GASTONIA, N. C. (UP)—M-Sgt. C. E. Strickland, Army and Air Force recruiting officer here, thinks he made some sort of record when he enlisted Benjamin F. Green of Lowell, N. C., in the Army. It was the third time Strickland had enlisted Green whose previous enlistments were in the Air Force and Army.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks pursued an irregular course today in a fairly active market.

Prices were mostly lower at the opening, and by mid-day they had become irregular under cross-currents of buying and selling.

Most price changes were in the small fractions, but a few wide moving issues swung nearly four points either way.

Westinghouse Electric, which gained 5½ points in the two previous days, was fairly active today at a steady price.

Curtiss-Wright started on a bloc of 7,500 shares up ⅛ and held to its gain in the face of losses among many other aircrafts.

New Film Aids in Study Of Earth's Atmosphere

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — A unique molded photographic film, shaped like a bowl, has been developed by Eastman Kodak scientists for use in a highly efficient new meteor camera at the Harvard College Observatory.

Harvard astronomers are working on a Navy project to learn more about the earth's upper atmosphere. By watching and photographing performance of meteors, the scientists hope to gain information for use in high-altitude rocket experiments.

Specially shaped film was needed to record accurately the tracks of meteors as they race through the sky, and, after years of experiment, Kodak scientists came forward with the molded film.

New Version Advanced On Missouri Meaning

JOPLIN, Mo. (UP) — Missouri doesn't mean "Big Muddy," as is popularly believed, according to Dr. John P. Harrington of the Smithsonian Institution.

Harrington told the Ozark Playground Association here the name comes from a small Indian tribe that came down what is now the Missouri River in canoes to the Missouri-Oklahoma border region.

The Miami Indians called the tribe the Misulis, "people having canoes." White men corrupted the words to Misuris, and it finally became Missouri.

WEDS NURSE. Recovered from an 11-story fall, Thomas Grace plants a kiss on cheek of his bride, the nurse who nursed him back to health, after wedding in Chicago. The romance began last May when Grace, a construction worker, was taken to a hospital. The bride is the former Norma Rawls.

Hawaii's Sugar Crop at Peak, Profits Decline

HONOLULU (UP)—The Hawaiian sugar industry produced a record-breaking crop in 1953, but the plantations reported a drop in perton net profits.

The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association reported a yield of 1,099,323 tons of cane harvested in the territory last year, a record that surpasses all previous harvests. Yet the industry's refining and marketing organizations estimated that profits from each ton of refined sugar totaled only $121 86 compared to the 1952 profit of $123 per ton.

Profits from molasses, an important by-product of the industry also were down $1.41 a ton.

John E. Russell, president of the HSPA, said the record crop was harvested from 25 per cent less acreage than the previous top crop of 1932-33.

"This achievement," Russell explained, "was made possible by costly research, a tremendous increase in the investment of machinery and equipment, as well as the skillful application of science and favorable weather."

Russell expects production for 1954 and 1955 to be considerably below that of 1953. Drought conditions on several sections of the islands had no effect last year but will be felt in the crops now maturing.

The HSPA blamed the lower net profits on a drop in sugar prices during the months that the Hawaiian sugar was being marketed.

Donald MacLean, president of the California and Hawaiian Refining Corp., said molasses prices dropped because of abundant supplies and gains made by the petroleum industry in producing alcohol.

The HSPA said wages paid by Hawaiian plantations last year were the world's highest paid to agricultural workers on a year-round basis. The all-time high was reached last September, averaging $10.37 daily for plantation production workers. The average for 1953, the HSPA said, exceeded $10 a day. The 1952 average pay scale was $9.70 for sugar workers.

The report by the HSPA said sales of refined sugar were below expectations last year, but still set a record of some 755,000 tons. Sales in 1952 totaled 725,763 tons.

The association announced experiments in soaking seed cane in a solution of phenyl mercuric acetate, an antiseptic, which resulted in faster sprouting and increased germination of cane buds.

Airplanes were used for the first time last year in fertilizing the fields with sprays of nitrogen and potash, while on the great Ewa Plantation aqua ammonia was used for the first time for fertilizing the fields simultaneously with irrigation.

Sardines Change Your Lenten Meals

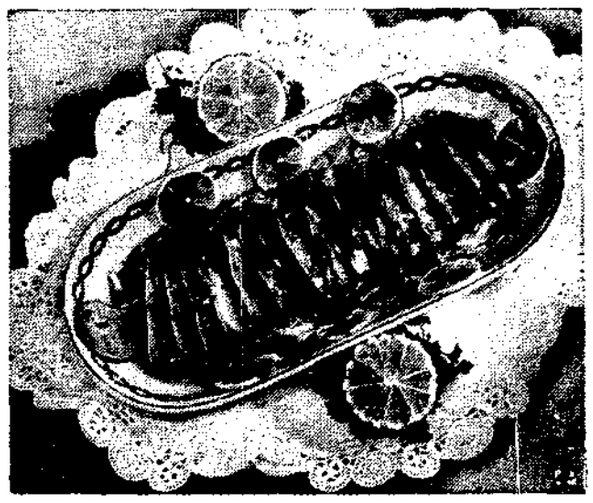
Tasty Recipe for Viveur Suggested for Lunch With Cheeses

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Something different; something piquant is what we have for you today. So many times during Lent we hear: "I'm tired of serving fish the same old way. Hasn't anyone any new ideas?". That's a challenge we like!

Here, cooks, is a dish created by one of New York's best chefs; then tried — and enjoyed — in this food editor's kitchen. The recipe features a seafood available to everyone — Norway sardines from handy cans. A can of these savory tidbits tops this delicious and interesting first course, Sardines Viveur. When you serve this dish you'll be eating delightfully. We like Sardines Viveur for lunch followed by an omelette and a favorite variety of cheese, then fruit and tea or coffee. If you use this menu, have lots of hard rolls on hand for both the Sardines Viveur and the cheese — and don't forget the sweet butter.

You'll notice that this recipe calls for cutting the vegetables in matchstick size strips. Do observe this direction; they taste best that way in this particular dish.



SARDINES VIVEUR. They are different and piquant.

SARDINES VIVEUR

Ingredients: 1 rib celery, 2 medium-size carrots, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon olive oil, ¼ cup cooking sherry, 1 bay leaf, 1 small clove garlic, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 8 thin slices lemon (peeled), one 3¾ ounce can Norway sardines.

Method: Clean celery and carrots; peel onion. Cut celery and carrots into matchstick size strips (julienne). Slice onion into thin strips. Heat the olive oil in an 8-inch skillet. Add celery, carrots and onion. Cook gently about 5 minutes, stirring a few times. Add sherry and bay leaf; crush garlic into skillet; mix thoroughly. Simmer until vegetables are tender-crisp and most of the liquid has evaporated—about 5 minutes. Chill about 6 hours to blend flavors. At serving time, remove bay leaf; arrange vegetables in serving dish, drain sardines and place over vegetables. Garnish with lemon slices; sprinkle with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Most 3¾-ounce cans of Norway sardines contain from 20 to 22 whole sardines.

For another interesting luncheon dish we like to serve a cheddar cheese sauce with sardines. We season the sauce with a little dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce and curry powder; then add some drained canned tomatoes. Just spoon the hot sauce over toast, then garnish with the sardines.

Another good combinations is tomato aspic on salad greens with sardines. At this time of year we're likely to add some finely diced celery to the aspic for something crunchy; in summer it's usually cucumbers that go in. Try this combination, we think you'll like it.

Mildness of Rebuke Draws Speculation

Ike Avoids Showdown With McCarthy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like Antaeus, the mythological giant who renewed his strength every time he touched the earth, Sen. McCarthy seems to gain added confidence after each encounter with the Eisenhower administration.

So far, the comparison ends there. For, while Hercules at last held Antaeus in the air and crushed him, President Eisenhower has shown no eagerness to rush into a decisive, party - splitting struggle with the Wisconsin Republican.

EVEN HIS STATEMENT yesterday on the way he wants McCarthy to treat generals—billed in advance by his aides as something to watch for—was far milder than McCarthy's fast reply on what he'd do with generals when he sees fit.

Ash Wednesday may be remembered as the day when Eisenhower and McCarthy issued a kind of manifesto to each other, but it was merely a day of talk. What they do in the future remains to be seen.

If McCarthy follows his usual pattern, he will do nothing for a while which might prod Eisenhower into a full-scale break. Then, after an interval, he'll run headon into the administration again down some new avenue.

HE HAS HAD a number of such collisions in the past year. Each was followed by a brief period of comparative quiet. Then, and always from a fresh direction, McCarthy crashed against the administration again, but harder.

It's difficult to believe this can continue indefinitely without (1) an explosion or (2) a crushing humiliation for Eisenhower or the senator. It's possible that in a contest with Eisenhower McCarthy may overreach himself.

He's a hard in-fighter but, nevertheless, yesterday he showed he can be needled into going further than he seemed to intend, that he can be pushed off balance. This was a side of him not seen quite this way before. It could happen again.

WITHIN ONE HOUR after the President had issued an 800-word statement aimed right at McCarthy, the senator issued a statement of his own, containing this sentence: "Apparently the President and I now agree on the necessity of getting rid of Communists."

Since McCarthy had made a career of Communist hunting, this could only mean McCarthy thought Eisenhower wasn't against Communists before and only now was reaching that position.

McCarthy apparently realized that with such an implication he had gone too far. He sent word later that kind of interpretation was being put on his language and he wanted to delete the word "now."

He had never been under quite the same kind of high-placed pressure before because Eisenhower's statement, the result of a series of events set in motion by McCarthy himself, was being awaited on two continents.

THE EVENTS STARTED with McCarthy's questioning of Brig Gen. Ralph Zwicker about an honorable discharge given Maj. Irving Peress a dentist. McCarthy called Peress a "Fifth Amendment Communist," a charge Peress termed "sheer nonsense."

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens accused McCarthy of abusing Zwicker. McCarthy disputed that. Their disagreement attracted wide attention. There was editorial demand for Eisenhower to take a stand.

Eisenhower, who hadn't intervened when McCarthy quizzed other employes of the government, decided to say something.

Although his long statement clearly was pointed at McCarthy, he never mentioned his name. He talked about fair play, said he didn't want government employes mistreated by congressional committees. He never said precisely what he'd do if they were.

NEVERTHELESS, this was the closest he had come to an open challege to McCarthy. McCarthy's quick reply was much less reticent about whom he was talking to and about. He mentioned the President.

Eisenhower praised Gen. Zwicker. But McCarthy showed what he thought of this, leaving it up to the President to like it or lump it, with the toughest reply he's ever given Eisenhower:

"If a stupid, arrogant or witless man in a position of power appears before our committee and is found aiding the Communist party, he will be exposed. The fact that he might be a general places him in no special class as far as I am concerned."

Next move? It's up to McCarthy. If he pursues his investigation and roughs up Army people, he'll be challenging Eisenhower to snap his whip. McCarthy could do as he has done in the past: let this case cool off, not force Eisenhower's hand, try something else later.

Green Camp Rules On Parking Period At Postoffice Site

Henceforth there will be no parking in front of the Green Camp postoffice during the period of incoming and outgoing mail. The village Council decided this at its March meeting in granting the request of Mrs. Cora A. Williams, postmistress.

A letter from H. Schoonover, of Divison 6, Highway Department, regarding installation of curbing and better water drainage in the village, was referred to the street and alley committee for study and clarification by Schoonover.

Mayor H. D. Kempton reported on attending a district advisory Council meeting regarding health conditions in the village.

Several alleys in the village will be stoned in the near future to make a better road surface for fire equipment. Steps were taken to protect the fire well cap located in the business area from being damaged by automobiles.

Pennies vs. Wages

Once more the tax news from Washington is popular. There are to be reductions in a long list of excise taxes, if the House Ways and Means Committee can have its way.

But at the same time the committee says there are to be no reductions in corporate income taxes scheduled for reductions. The general idea seems to be that the excise reductions on the one hand would be offset by the lack of corporate reductions on the other. It is not easy to follow this line of reasoning but the over-all effect is to let individual taxpayers know their burdens are to be lightened whereas the burdens of corporations are to remain the same.

This is what is known as good election-year practice in handling the tax issue. Corporations don't vote and people do vote, therefore Congress should sock it to the corporations. But there is vastly more at stake in taxation than currying favor with voters by easing up on their excise taxes while penalizing corporations.

The purpose of taxes is to finance the government without hurting the sources of wealth production which furnish the wherewithal to run the United States. Americans do not draw their pay from government but from their own productive efforts. The few pennies they will save from reductions of excise taxes are peanuts compared with the wages they draw from corporate employers.

Anything that helps to create more jobs contributes to the buying power of the American people.

That is the logic behind proposals to reduce taxes on corporations. That is the fallacy behind proposals to reduce excise taxes on sports events and face cream instead—that, plus the argument being made energetically by Secretary of Treasury Humphrey that the government is in no position to give up on luxuries taxes until it has boiled down its spending rate in corresponding amounts.

Athletic Entertainers

The cleanest and quickest solution for the problem of semi - professional athletics in schools and colleges would be to go the whole way and make athletics completely professional, in the judgment of Harold W. Stoke, former college president and currently dean of the graduate school at the University of Washington.

Dan Stoke, writing in the current Atlantic, lays down a proposition no one can easily brush aside.

The American system of education, he explains, is an ideal agency for providing public entertainment. Hence, the so - called overemphasis of athletics. Hence, the problems of over-emphasis.

"Conceived as education," Dean Stoke explains, "athletics is inexplicable, corrupting and uncontrollable; as public entertainment, and even as public entertainment to be provided by educational institutions, athletics becomes comprehensible and manageable."

Therefore, educators who find themselves puzzled and unhappy over their obligation to supply the public with entertainment regardless of their academic standards and convenience should get a firm grasp of reality.

"Universities exist to do what they can for students, but athletes are recruited for what they can do for the universities," explains Dean Stoke. It is his opinion that educators should separate athletes from bona fide students and deal with the athletes separately . . . recognize that they are public entertainers and handle them as such, instead of trying to maintain the absurd illusion they are ordinary students.

Atlantic Monthly is read widely by educators. Dean Stoke's refreshing point of view may have a powerful impact.

Political Medicine in U.S.S.R.

Within a year of Stalin's death, medical shuffings in the Kremlin suggest strongly that the surviving "patients" have become uneasy about the doctors who will preside at their own deaths.

The medico who took responsibility for Stalin has been removed from his job as minister of health. Since he is the same doctor who disclosed the later-to-be-discredited "doctors' plot" against Kremlin politicos in the first place, it's a safe guess his career in political medicine has hit a rough stretch.

Political medicine is something new under the sun. It is the Communist art of combining medical science and terrorist politics to produce a dual-purpose elixir of life and death— good for the politicians who want to stay alive and bad for the politicians whose time has come to be removed from the premises by those who intend to succeed them.

There was no doubt about it when Stalin died last March 5 that his political time had come. But when a government is dominated by assassins there always is deep doubt about the coming of the medical time. Stalin's going may have been expedited by political medicine; many skeptics think he was pushed into eternity.

If so, his survivors hardly can be blamed for shuffling doctors to firm up their personal prospects for long life.

Strange Silence

Democrats Escape Rebuke for Abuse of Beeson

Nearly two weeks have passed since a group of Democratic senators crucified the character and reputation of an innocent American citizen on the floor of the United States Senate.

No cry has come from Harry Truman or Adlai Stevenson, leaders of the Democratic party, that a new code of decency and respect for citizens is needed on the part of the Democratic members of the Senate who participated in, as vicious a case of public abuse as has been written into the public records in the memory of this correspondent.

A presidential appointee was accused of lying. His integrity was assailed and his name besmirched.

The oft-raised cry that a man is innocent until proved guilty was flagrantly disregarded. Because a few Democratic senators chose to misinterpret facts to their own liking, they put into the record a charge of falsification which they have not withdrawn.

The American people in the last few days have been told that a general in the U. S. Army was "browbeaten" ad "humiliated" by one Republican senator.

The comments by that senator with one single exception—which was indefensible—were mild and tame compared to the accusations heaped on Albert Beeson, who was nominated and later confirmed by the margin of one vote to be a member of the National Labor Relations Board.

NO SUCH "BROWBEATING" has ever been put into the Congressional Record. Eighteen pages of the Record of February 18 are filled with charges based on the flimsiest pretexts.

Anybody who reads those pages objectively cannot but be impressed with a belief that something else motivated the group of Democratic senators in their concerted assault on the character and reputation of Beeson. That something else was the determined opposition of the AFL and CIO leaders to the nomination.

What is remarkable, moreover, is that the Democratic members of the Senate Labor Committee at first made a report saying they didn't question Beeson's integrity, honesty or candor. Later on they produced three quibbles on which they built their attack, reversing their earlier position.

What were Beeson's so-called "falsehoods"?

First, he said he had "resigned" or "severed" his connections with his company. Anybody who quits a job and goes off the payroll has resigned and has severed his connections. The Democratic senators insisted that Beeson lied because he informally used the word "resigned." Few persons accused of crime would ever get a fair trial in America if that kind of quibbling became an integral part of the American system of justice.

The next so-called "falsehood" was with respect to pension rights. Beeson said he had "lost" those rights. He meant, of course, his future pension rights if he didn't go back to the company. He couldn't lose his past rights because the money reserved for him in the pension fund out of his own past payments and the money reserved for him out of company contributions in past years were in the hands of an insurance company trustee.

The company had no control over the spending of those funds. But the Democratic senators insisted that Beeson lied when he said he lost his pension rights and they claimed he had a "pecuniary interest" in his company when they discovered he would have money coming to him later on, as is the case with all accumulated pensions.

THE THIRD ALLEGED falsehood had to do with two dispatches printed in Beeson's hometown newspaper in San Jose, Calif. He was asked at the committee hearing about the first of these two dispatches, in which some erroneous quotes were used, and said he had made no such statement. At the time he testified he had not seen the second of the dispatches, in which he was quoted as making a statement that duplicated accurately something that appeared in the first dispatch—namely, a reference to his leaving his employer.

The mixup was readily understood by the newspaper in question, the publisher of which wrote a letter to the Senate committee stating that the misunderstanding had been satisfactorily explained and that there was no lack of integrity involved. It was a case in which confusion had occurred.

One phase of the Senate debate turned on the exact words used—whether Beeson had put in a resignation in a formal sense, which, of course, he had not as yet done.

A man who quits his job three weeks before an appointment and goes off the payroll has a right to say he has "resigned" and has "severed connections."

The Democratic senators, however, were unmerciful in their attack. They referred to the fact that Paul Davies, the employer, had testified—several days after the appointment was announced—that he considered Beeson on "leave of absence."

THIS WAS CONSTRUED as a contradiction. Yet Davies had clearly explained that he did this on his own without advising Beeson of how he had himself decided to construe in a technical sense the separation of Beeson from the company's employ.

Even this was ignored by the Democratic senatorial group, who refused to take the common sense explanation—that the employer was adopting the technical attitude necessary to preserve an employe's pension rights and that there was no purpose to impose any obligation whatsoever on Beeson to return to the company if he desired not to do so.

The pages in the Congressional Record stand as a black mark on those same Democratic senators, who denounce so-called "McCarthyism" one day and embrace it enthusiastically another day for political reasons. Sen. Knowland, realistically said to the Senate:

"How are we to get persons of responsibility to accept jobs in the government at a considerable sacrifice to themselves if, when they come to Washington, they receive the type of abuse which this man apparently received when he appeared before the committee? It seems to me that such persons will think several times before accepting such nominations."

Intelligence Test

By TRUMAN TWILL

William Feather wrote in one of his paragraphic jewels recently that the acid test of intelligence is its ability to cope with unintelligence.

Sooner or later it is the massive obstruction of unintelligence that blocks or threatens to block the best-laid plans of mice and men.

Knute Rockne used to tell a story about a feeble - minded football player who thought he was a steam locomotive when they tucked a football under his arm and said, "Choo; Choo!" No one could stop him.

But once when old Choo - Choo was about to make a touchdown, a quick - witted defensive back hissed, "Phhhhhssssss. . ." and old Choo - Choo came to a stop. He was all out of steam. That's the way to exploit unintelligence.—Both ways.

Barnum packed them in to gawk at his harmless fakes, because he realized the unintelligent liked to be fooled and wouldn't hold it against him for taking their money.

Many a more ruthless exploiter has used the same tactics to clean up on fakes that weren't harmless. Every confidence man who ever lived has taken advantage in some way of the unintelligence of his victims.

But William Feather was thinking about the positive side of the proposition, not the negative side. The test of intelligence is whether or not a person can learn to deal with unintelligence without losing his own composure.

By this standard, few of us can qualify as persons of intelligence.

I cannot cope with the aggravation of abysmal ignorance.

II cannot cope with the aggravations posed by people who cannot grasp the difference between disagreement and disloyalty. They make me fly into a chattering rage by being unintelligent about this.

Every shred of composure I possess can be made to dissolve without trace in a hot stew of bitter resentment whenever I encounter anyone unintelligent enough to louse up what could be a mighty fine world with personal spitefulness.

Misrepresentations by chowderheads and failure to realize that the republic depends on willingness to compromise make me stutter with blind resentment.

The bearing of false witness and the systematic practice of demagoguery strike me as unforgivable sins—the most completely unintelligent things anyone could do in a republic. I can't see straight when these things happen.

Things like these have nothing to do with education, literacy, or special levels of education. They are matters of intelligence, not learning, foundation stones of citizenship in a republic—and they rest, in turn, on the assumption there will be enough intelligence about self-government in a republic to keep unintelligence at bay by refusing to get discouraged about it.

Maybe it takes more practice than most of us are willing to give it—this coping with unintelligence. Maybe a citizen who really worked at it would learn to walk over hot coals in his bare feet without moaning when they fried his flesh where it was tender.

State Department Ignores Warning

By Raymond Moley

On the day when the fate of the Bricker amendment was sealed a comment was made that the fight would be good and sufficient warning to our State Department against bringing back from Europe agreements which would risk a new outburst.

On the day when that statement was made, however, the State Department did exactly what this prediction denied. It presented with a fervid appeal to an advisory committee of businessmen at the Commerce Department an international tin agreement which embodied all of the dangers which stimulated much of the support of the Bricker and George proposals.

What is worse the proponents of that agreement were over anxious to keep from the press and the public the fact that the advisory committee to which I refer, declared itself decisively against this proposed international tin cartel.

There is vigorous opposition within the administration to this agreement. A number of departments are opposed to the State Department's entire policy of commodity agreements.

THIS TIN AGREEMENT has been a long time in the international assembly line. Its history is too detailed to be recounted here. Suffice it to say that it was created at a conference called by the United Nations in which both producing and consuming countries were represented.

The conference was held at Geneva in the closing weeks of 1953. The proposal embodies an elaborate system of control and price fixing applying to both producing and consuming countries.

This international cartel is put forth, of course, in the sweet name of "stability," a word which has become almost as popular in socialistic circles as "security."

The agreement provides for an International Tin Council to be set up in London.

This council would make decisions concerning floor and ceiling prices, export quotas and the purchases and sales from what is called the "buffer" stock. The latter is the supply which is designed to help "stabilize" the market.

A NUMBER of "votes" are assigned to each participating country. The producing countries have 1,000 and the consuming countries, 1,000. A simple majority of these votes is decisive.

The United States which is, of course, the biggest consumer has 490 votes. It is provided that while there may be adjustments from time to time in the number of votes given to each consuming country there can never be more than 490 assigned to any one country.

This, of course, is intended to prevent the United States from getting more votes whatever the amount of tin it may consume.

The cost of this agreement to the United States would be in the support given to the price of tin. The price to the United States would go up from its present range of 85 cents per pound to 95. Also if, as is likely, we shall in the future cease absorbing all of the surplus tin from Indonesia, Bolivia and the Belgian Congo the price without this agreement would drop to an estimated 60 cents a pound.

ACCORDING TO reliable calculations the increased cost to American consumers immediately would be $12,500,000 annually, but later would increase to 45 million dollars.

That is what the American consumer would in effect be taxed for the benefit of producing countries. And in the final round that consumer would be the American housewife.

In short, this is a way of providing foreign aid without an appropriation by Congress. It is a hidden hand-out.

Since the State Department probably feels so good after its victory over the Bricker and George proposals here is a good chance for it to show its courage. I suggest that Mr. Dulles submit this product of his team to the Senate. If he does, I expect that a storm will arise which will be vastly more angry than the Bricker-George debate.

Guns but No Cameras

By DAVID BARNET

They make visitors to Congress check their cameras but not their firearms.

This was the bitter comment of one member of Congress after the burst from Luger pistols in the gallery hit five representatives on the floor of Congress.

"It may not happen again in a hundred years, but I wish something could be done to make sure it couldn't happen again," said Rep. Thomas.

What could be done to prevent a repetition of the assassination attempt? These were the suggestions that congressmen most frequently advanced:

1. Set off the galleries by bullet-proof glass.

2. Require visitors to go through some sort of X-ray device that would indicate if there was metal on their persons.

3. Supplement the patronage-controled doorkeepers and elevator operators with more trained, armed security officers.

Congressmen said closing the galleries to the public was inconsistent with democracy and could not be seriously considered.

House Speaker Martin said he would order the galleries closed to all but holders of passes from congressmen.

Congressman Thomas did not think that would do much good. "A man walks in my office, says he's from Houston and asks for a pass. I can't very well accuse him of trying to murder a congressman by refusing to give him a pass," he said.

Rep. Van Zandt, suggested that armed guards be stationed in the galleries, but some representatives complained that would give the House the appearance of "a police state."

Thomas, a high-ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations committee, predicted Congress would not vote for glass enclosures nor for an X-ray device.

Congressmen may want more security now, he said, but "When the shock of this thing is over they will think twice about something that, in effect, insults their constituents."

Doorkeepers now are forbidden by the rules to search visitors to the galleries, although they have been instructed to keep an eye out for suspicious bulges.

Rep. Hillings said he would propose to the House Administration Committee that armed guards replace unarmed guards at the entrances to the Capitol and the congressional office buildings.

He said he also would ask for a rule requiring members of congressional staffs to wear identification cards and restricting gallery attendance to those wearing the cards or having admittance cards from members of Congress.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Whoozis Sent Me

We are thinking of buying an automobile, maybe new and maybe used. But we don't know whose name to mention. Groucho Marx says, "Tell 'em Groucho sent you." Berle urges us to say Uncle Miltie sent us. Ed Sullivan says, "When you go, mention my name." And now, Guy Lombardo, boosting a car on his TV show, has joined the growing company with a firm, "Tell 'em Lombardo sent you."

We get mixed up easily and have a deadly fear we will mention the wrong entertainer as responsible for our hasty expenditures in the motor world. We are unnerved by a recurrent thought that we might go to the salesroom or used-car lot to which Groucho sends people and say that Lombardo, Berle or Sullivan sent us.

These are highly competitive days in the auto trade and no salesman is going to lose a customer on a technicality. We wouldn't feel right if we had mistakenly taken Guy Lombardo's advice in a Groucho Marx sales room and were seen by Guy driving the wrong car. Or vice versa. As a matter of fact, we have been through some embarrassing experiences through our TV and car lot journeys already.

"Groucho sent me," we said in a used-car lot the other day.

"What Groucho is that?" the man asked.

We could see he was uninformed and so we tried another lot.

"Milton Berle sends me," we said.

"He don't send me," sneered the salesman. "But his secretary, Max, is terrific."

"I'm a prospective customer," we said, anxious to get on with the deal.

"You want the video shop. Two blocks down, take your first left," he said.

Life found us next in a big motor showroom, groggy but determined. "Lopez," we said briefly.

"We got nobody by that name here unless he is in the service department," was the answer.

"Look," we pleaded. "Anybody can make mistakes. It could be Sullivan."

"My name is O'Hara," he said, indicating that we were both in a bad state of confusion now. We were about to flee in search of a car to whom nobody had sent us, but saw a very smart model at $999.95 and decided to be persistent.

"Nice car," we said. "Know who sent me?"

"No," said the salesman.

"Howdy Doody," we said.

"Who?" demanded the salesman.

"Alistair Cooke, the O'Brien Sisters, Art Carney, Gabby Hayes, Fred Allen, Martha Raye, the Chicago Zoo, four cooking programs, Art Linkletter and Life Begins at 80," we said. "I also have introductory letters to auto agencies from Rumpus Room, Eva Gabor, Dragnet, Suspense and Jimmy Durante."

"You got sent here!" exclaimed the salesman suddenly.

"Sure," we said.

"WHY DIDN'T YOU SAY SO!" he snapped.

Can't make up my mind which is the harder to understand, the Azuma Kabuki Japanese dancers, "The Confidential Clerk," or Vic Raschi's release.

Helen Traubel of Grand Opera fame is performing in a New York nightclub, mixing Aida, with the St. Louis Blues, etc. Remember away back when you had to go to the opera to hear an opera star?

Most absurd move yet made in the McCarthy-Stevens row is the circulation of the story that the Army had tagged the Brooklyn dentist as a security risk six months before McCarthy. . . . Yeah, but nothing was done about it for a year, and then the dentist-major was given a hurry-up honorable discharge at his own convenience. venience'$ $ $ $

To Be Deported After 30 Years

Immigrant Seaman Loses His Fight To Stay in U.S.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Trojan Seaman sailed from Baltimore today with Charles Slanina, 56-year-old Austrian-born seaman, still aboard after a last desperate attempt to re-enter the United States.

Without a country he wants to call home, Slanina finds himself trapped in a maze of immigration laws, changing political boundaries and costly mistakes dating back more than three decades.

Request Rejected

Federal Judge W. Calvin Chestnut yesterday rejected Slanina's request that he be allowed to leave the American ship for extensive medical treatment here after doctors at the Public Health Service hospital found nothing of an emergency nature wrong with him.

The sturdily built seaman admitted it was a desperate attempt to be readmitted to the land he has called home for 30 years.

He dejectedly told his story last night over a cup of coffee in the small messroom of the Trojan Seaman.

It all started with a mistake, "a bad mistake I made," he said.

"I came over here in 1922 from Czechoslovakia and jumped ship. I worked as a machinist in New York for a long time before I took out my first naturalization papers.

Feared Deportation

"But I was scared. Scared to get my second papers and try to become a citizen because I thought I might get deported.

"So, I did nothing. Now, look where I am."

Slanina, born in a part of Austria that later became a section of Czechoslovakia, fought with the Austrian army in World War I. He deserted to join the anti-Bolshevik Czechoslovak Legion, which was caught up in the Russian Revolution. He ended up in Vladivostok.

In 1920, he returned to his homeland, was a minor government official for a time and two years later shipped to America as a merchant seaman.

He returned to the sea in 1942, when merchant seamen were needed in the World War II effort because, "it was sort of a patriotic thing," he said.

Says He Was Misinformed

With a passport renewable each year from the Czech consulate in New York, Slanina said he was told he could get his citizenship if he spent five years actual sailing time on American ships.

All went well until the postwar rise of a Red government in Czechoslovakia. The consulate which issued his papers was closed and the passport became invalid.

American immigration officials told Slanina he still had seven months sailing time to go before he could become a candidate for citizenship.

He got a temporary document, "In lieu of passport" and in early December 1952 shipped out with the Trojan Seaman.

Then the McCarran immigration laws became effective, and Slanina, without a valid visa or passport, was refused re-entry. He's been aboard the Trojan Seaman ever since, "14 long months," he said.

Airline Reports Jump In Marion Boardings

Lake Central Airlines passenger sales in Marion are showing substantial monthly increases for the early months in 1954, it was announced today by Russell McMahan, Marion station manager for the local service carrier. Lake Central's February boardings in Marion represent a gain of 28 per cent over the number boarded during January, 1954.

In making the announcement, McMahan said "the trend in increased passenger traffic in 1954 is evident throughout Lake Central's 23-city route. During February, the company realized a 16 per cent system-wide increase in passenger boardings over January. The total number of passengers boarded during February, 1954, represents the largest sales over Lake Central's routes during any February in the local service carrier's 4½-year history."

Condition of Pope Pius Continues to Improve

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Pope passed his eighth consecutive "fairly good" night and his slow progress toward recovery continues today, Vatican sources said.

The informants said the amount of solid food given the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church is slowly and very cautiously being increased. This consists of small portions of fruit and rice. Most of the Pope's diet still is semi-liquid.

Timken Reports 1953 Profit of $10,856,402

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Timken Roller Bearing Co. today reported net profit of $10,856,402, or $4.48 a share during 1953, on sales of $178,164,701.

This compared with a profit of $10,596,534, or $4.38 a share, on sales of $169,632,883 in 1952.

The company reported its steelmaking operations at 75 per cent of capacity last week, and the bearing business off because of a lag in demand from the automobile and farm machinery industries.

Church Activities

In-His-Name Circle of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. George Bird for the February meeting. A potluck dinner, a program and social hour were enjoyed. Devotions were by Mrs. Bessie Davids on the subject, "Brotherhood." Prayer was by Mrs. R. J. Hecker. Mrs. Hecker presided for the business meeting when a letter of thanks was read from Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smeltzer. The program was conducted by Mrs. Hecker, on the topic, "The Methodist Church Among Rural Negroes." She was assisted by Mrs. William Knachel, Mrs. H. C. Lane, Mrs. Carl Gabriel, Mrs. Ruth Thomas and Mrs. Abbie Isler.

Bergholz Blaze Fought By 3 Fire Departments

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Fire departments from three towns rushed to nearby Bergholz early today to fight a fire that for a time threatened the village's entire business district.

Fanned by high winds, the flames broke out in a tavern and then spread to a furniture warehouse before being checked.

Firemen from Amsterdam and Salineville helped fight the fire and remove furniture from the warehouse.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage. Cause of the blaze likewise was not determined.

Police, Patrol List 3 Mishaps

The accident occurred one-tenth of a mile west of Meeker. The telephone pole was knocked down and 40 feet of fence, owned by Clifton Wenig of near New Bloomington, was torn up.

Two Akron Youths Plead Guilty to Bank Robbery

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Akron youths pleaded guilty to charges of bank robbery and were bound over to a Stark County grand jury today in the $1,800 holdup of a bank in Uniontown, 12 miles north of here.

James W. Johnson, 19, and Argil D. Osborne, 26, had all but about $50 of the money stolen when they were arrested less than two hours after the Uniontown Savings and Loan Assn. was held up Tuesday afternoon.

They were caught after they flashed a roll of bills in a grocery store at Aultman, a hamlet a few miles from Uniontown.

Audit Discloses Bluffton Short Village Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state bureau of inspection today reported a $4,060 shortage in accounts of the Allen County village of Bluffton.

The report released by State Auditor James A. Rhodes covered an examination of the period between March 27, 1949, and Nov. 26, 1953.

Interest added by a state examiner for funds withheld from the village treasury totaled $974, running the findings against former village Clerk Charles R. Emans to $5,035.

Rhodes said the alleged shortage occurred when Emans was both village clerk and clerk of the Board of Public Affairs which operated waterworks, municipal light and sewage plants.

The examiner said records showed four large utility consumers were billed for larger amounts than charged on village books.

The report said Bluffton College was billed and paid $1,023 more than it was credited with paying. Triplett Electric Instrument Co. $495, Bluffton Store Co. $299 and Page Dairy C. $1,380.

The examiner said he was informed records of the utility department prior to 1949 had been destroyed.

Delicious Lenten Treat Made With New Duncan Hines "Recipe-Blend" Spaghetti

DUNCAN HINES, America's leading authority on good eating, says, "I've literally eaten my way across the United States, and have sampled all types of spaghetti and macaroni dishes, before reaching my conclusions on these products. Frequently, I found the sauces flat and weak. At other times I found that good sauces and fine ingredients were wasted on inferior spaghetti.

Duncan Hines

"This led to the development of my own spaghetti, macaroni and egg noodles on the basis of 'recipe-blending.' Duncan Hines macaroni products go hand-in-hand with your favorite recipe. They 'marry' the sauce, help to make the whole dish an adventure in good eating."

CLASSIC SPAGHETTI DISH

Typical of a meatless dish in which "recipe-blended" spaghetti makes such a difference is Duncan Hines Spaghetti with Tomato Sauce illustrated here. The recipe is on the back of the Duncan Hines regular Spaghetti package. Mr. Hines regards this dish as a classic but to live up to all it promises, it must be made with Duncan Hines own Spaghetti.

Try the newest additions to America's first family of fine foods — Duncan Hines Spaghetti, Thin Spaghetti, Macaroni, Elbow Macaroni, Shell Macaroni and Egg Noodles. You'll find each an adventure in good eating. They're at your grocer's now!
